

A big smile for a little fish

At the behest of students, William Paterson University recently changed its rule banning fishing on campus. With poles in hand, members of the college fishing club, above, gather Thursday on the patio at the business school on Valley Road in Wayne to cast their lines for bluegill sunfish and large-mouth bass. University President Kathleen Waldron, right, proudly poses for a snapshot after reeling in a "whopper."

PHOTOS BY TIM FARRELL/
THE STAR-LEDGER

THE RECORD/HERALD NEWS

October 2, 2010

FISHING CLUB PLAYS 'HOOKY' AT WILLIAM PATERSON

PHOTOS BY TIM FARRELL/THE STAR-LEDGER

From the patio of William Paterson University's business school, members of the fishing club look to hook largemouth bass and bluegill sunfish, like the one caught by Eddie Casiano, above, on Thursday. The university ended its ban on campus fishing this year at the request of students.