

Self-Guided Tour of the Curriculum Materials Center (CMC)

The Curriculum Materials Center (CMC) is located on the first floor of the Library. Walk straight to the back of the library. Just before the stairway, turn left and go through the double doors into the Curriculum Materials Center. Start your tour at the doorway. Consult the map on the last page if needed. Feel free to ask staff for assistance.

Answer the questions as you go. At the end of the tour you will be directed to the Curriculum Materials website to answer these questions online. Print a copy of the survey for your professor, then submit an e-mail copy to the CMC. You may keep this tour for reference.

As you follow the tour, consider how the resources might help you develop a lesson plan. At the end of the tour you'll be asked to identify something that you think will be particularly helpful to you.

Please record the time you start the tour. _____ a.m. or p.m.

1. Juvenile Magazines

As you enter, directly in front of you are shelves with children's magazines. Most focus on topics taught in schools. Flip through one, and think how a teacher might use it.

2. Newbery Award and Caldecott Award Books

To the left of the children's magazines are shelves with copies of books that have won either the Newbery or Caldecott Award. You may read some of these if you take the course, Literacy and Learning.

3. Picture Book Collection

Against the wall to your left is a long row of low shelves of picture books that may be borrowed for four weeks. They are arranged in alphabetical order by the author's last name. For example, books by Dr. Seuss will have a label on the spine that reads: PJ Seu (P for Picture Book, J for juvenile, Seu for Seuss).

4. Big Book Collection

Turn left again. On the right side of the entrance there is a low bookcase with oversized picture books, called Big Books. Select a Big Book and turn to the back of the book. There should be a Teacher's Guide with suggestions for lesson planning. Big Books may be borrowed for four weeks.

5. Curriculum Materials Classroom & Bulletin Board

Turn left again. Directly ahead of you is a door to the classroom. To the left of the door is a bulletin board that often features suggestions for lesson plans.

6. Juvenile Books

Walk towards the bulletin board, then turn left and walk alongside the rows of shelves. These shelves contain the juvenile collection, which include books for students from first grade through grade twelve. They can be borrowed for four weeks.

6a. Juvenile Biographies (Rows 1-2)

The first row contains biographies, arranged in alphabetical order by the last name of who the book is about. All the books about Abraham Lincoln are together. The label on books about Abraham Lincoln will read jB LIN (j for juvenile, B for Biography and LIN for Lincoln).

6b. Juvenile Fiction (Rows 2-6)

Following the biographies are two rows of Juvenile Fiction that range from easy readers for first grade students to books for teenagers. This collection is arranged in alphabetical order by the author's last name. All the books by Judy Blume have labels that read J Blu (J for juvenile, Blu for Blume).

6c. Juvenile Non-fiction (Rows 7-13)

Continuing on your left are non-fiction books. These include factual books, as well as fairy tales, poetry, and plays, organized in Dewey Decimal order. A list of Dewey numbers is located at the end of the shelves to help you find books. These books vary in reading level from 1st grade through 12th grade. The call numbers on the labels for these books start with "j" for juvenile followed by a number, then the first three letters of the author's last name. An example is j591.909 Tay for Rain Forest, by Barbara Taylor.

7. Textbooks (Rows 14-17)

The next two aisles contain textbooks in many subjects for students in Kindergarten through Grade 12. They are arranged in Dewey Decimal order. Their labels include the word TEXT, the Dewey call number, the first three letters of the name of the publisher, followed by the year of publication, then the grade level of the textbook. Totally Awesome Health for sixth grade has the call number: TEXT 613.07 Mee 1999 Gr. 6 (TEXT for Textbook, 613.07 for health education, Mee for MeekHeit Publishers, 1999 for year of publication, Gr. 6 for sixth grade). A list of textbook numbers is located at the end of the shelves.

Find a textbook for a subject area and grade level of interest to you. Write down the title and call number that is on the label. Remember that the call number of a textbook should begin with TEXT, and should include a grade level.

8. Teaching Aids (Rows 17-18)

The last row of tall shelves contains the Teaching Aids. These books have suggestions for lesson plans, teaching activities, bulletin boards, etc. They have Library of Congress call numbers, like books in most college libraries. Library of Congress call numbers start with 1 or 2 letters, followed by numbers, then a combination of numbers and letters. Here's an example of a teaching aid and its call number:

Title: Active Learning: 101 strategies to teach any subject

Call Number: Curr.Mats. LB1027.23 .S556 1996

Write down the title and call number of a teaching aid that could be helpful to you.

9. Curriculum Guides

Opposite the Teaching Aids is a row of file cabinets with curriculum guides. Curriculum guides (or courses of study) are developed by local school districts for their teachers. Open one of the file drawers. The curriculum guides are arranged in alphabetical order by subject, then by the name of the school district, then by grade level.

10. Curriculum Materials Reference Room

To the right of the Curriculum Guides is a doorway to the Curriculum Materials Reference room. Besides being a quiet place to study, there is a small collection of encyclopedias, dictionaries and bibliographies of children's literature. The bibliographies can help you find books for children and teenagers.

11. Holocaust Education Collection

When you leave the Reference room there is a set of low shelves on your left. Walk around to the other side of the shelves to see the Holocaust Education collection. These materials are helpful for teaching students from Kindergarten through grade 12 about prejudice and discrimination, as well as about the Holocaust.

12. Curriculum Materials Staff

Behind you are the offices of Curriculum Materials staff. Please ask if you need help. If no one is available, you can ask for assistance at the Reference desk.

Write down the name of a staff member. _____

13. Book Cart for "Teaching as a Profession" and other classes.

Outside the Curriculum Materials office is a cart labeled with the name of your class. On this cart are materials that will be discussed during your orientation to Curriculum Materials. This cart will remain here for several weeks so you may refer back to it.

14. Computers

There are six computers in Curriculum Materials for you to use. The two with high stools are restricted to use of the Library's online catalog. The others (with chairs) can access the Library's databases and the Internet. All are connected to a printer.

15. Literature racks

Just past the computers are three literature racks on your left. Please look over these bibliographies and other publications that can be helpful in you.

16. Curriculum Materials Website

Sit down at a computer with a chair (not a stool). Go to the website:
