University Police

William Paterson University Police Officers are on duty 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

All officers are commissioned by the State of New Jersey and have full police powers. William Paterson University Police Officers enforce both Title 39, New Jersey's Motor Vehicles and Traffic Regulations, Title 2C, New Jersey's code of criminal justice, and University regulations.

All officers are under the control of the State Attorney General as well as the Passaic County Prosecutor's Office. Thus, they are required to maintain the same police training mandated by the New Jersey State Attorney General's Office for all police officers. They are also held accountable for their actions within the Laws of the State of New Jersey and the guidelines of the New Jersey Attorney General's Office.

All police agencies within Passaic County are under a mutual aid agreement to assist one another in emergency situations.

Under state and county guidelines certain criminal investigations are conducted with the Passaic County Prosecutor's Office as well as the New Jersey Division of Criminal Justice.

The University Police are responsible for the accurate reporting of crimes, which is reported to the New Jersey State Police. We, like all other police departments, follow the Uniform Crime Report Guidelines in regards to the accurate reporting of crimes. These statistics are reported to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The University answers to the United States Department of Education for the accurate reporting of Clery related crimes. As such, the University is responsible for the accuracy of these reports and is subject to fines if not accurate.

As a result, procedures are in place for the review of all police reports, as well as reports made to all university offices that have been deemed to have significant responsibilities with the students of William Paterson University.

The University Police have an anonymous on-line reporting mechanism in place to further facilitate these reports. This is located on the University Police website. Just click on the "Anonymous Reporting Form" link and fill out the questionnaire.

In addition to all the mandatory and optional training that the University Police participate in, we also host and participate in an annual on-scene simulated training in the area of a violent incident response. This training involves the use of campus buildings to conduct training for incidents such as Active Shooter Response. Officers are supplied with realistic scenarios with armed actors and multiple victims.

This training is conducted with the cooperation and participation of the surrounding police departments to familiarize our neighboring police departments with our campus. This training allows all officers in our area to be equipped with the same training in order to work cooperatively together in an emergency situation. This training is accomplished with the use of weapons containing simulated ammunition to make it as realistic as possible for officers responding to such an emergency.

Remember: Be calm, speak slowly and obtain the names and addresses of any witnesses. It is imperative that all crime and suspicious activity be reported to the University Police promptly and efficiently so that the matter can be dealt with accordingly.

By working together, the University community and the police can reduce crime on campus, thus creating a safer environment for us all.

All reports of criminal activities or emergencies are handled by the appropriate public safety personnel. You may report criminal activities or other emergencies twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week to the University Police Department at 973.720.2300.

Although, the William Paterson University's Police Department encourages that all crimes, emergencies or suspicious activity be reported directly to University Police, in a situation where that is not possible, please report the incident to any and all William Paterson University staff or faculty members that are in the area.

Emergency Notification Service

William Paterson University has entered into a contract with the NTI Group in order to provide Connect-ED Emergency Notification Services. This service was specifically built for post-secondary institutions and allows campus leaders and public safety professionals to send time-based notifications to thousands of people in minutes. Connect-Ed allows the University to “push” personalized communications to our constituency rather than having the constituency “pull” the information via e-mail, web or dial-in announcements.

Notifications for unexpected events such as natural or man-made disasters, utilities or technology outages, security threats, campus closures or other events deemed campus emergencies will be recorded and sent by University officials utilizing Connect-ED. It allows the University to be both reactive and proactive, with the ability to send notifications during and after an emergency. This service is provided as an Opt-in service to all University students, faculty and staff. Access to the Opt-in Service is through the WPCconnect portal which is available through the University’s website. Each individual can register up to 6 points of contact which will receive these important messages. The 6 points can include: Home phone, alternate phone, cell phone or PDA, university E-mail, emergency E-mail or text/SMS.

Emergency Notifications

The Jeanne Clery Act requires that Emergency Notifications be issued when it is determined that there is a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving the health or safety of students or employees occurring on campus.

A significant emergency can be defined as an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees. This would include all hazards, such as a Terrorist Attack, Natural Disaster, Environmental or other significant emergency. Although the Emergency Notification Policy is part of the Jeanne Clery Act, these notifications are for any incident that is deemed an emergency and is not just for crimes specifically mentioned in the Clery Act.

In the event that such a situation is confirmed by University Police, the Director of Public Safety and University Police will be immediately notified, who in turn will contact the Vice President of Administration and Finance to authorize an activation of the Connect-Ed System without delay. A broadcast will be sent via text message to all members of the University, or to the specific segment of the University’s populations that will be effected by the emergency, who have signed up for this notification. Furthermore, a voice mail notification and a University-wide e-mail would be sent in conjunction with the first message. All staff, faculty, resident students and commuter students that were notified by the original message, would be included in the follow-up message.

This notification would only be delayed if issuing it would compromise efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to or otherwise mitigate the emergency. Also, if such a notification is issued, a timely warning, via e-mail, telephone, or cell-phone may not be issued explaining the same circumstances.

In the event of an emergency notification being issued, adequate follow-up information would subsequently be issued such as an “all clear” message or updates about continuing steps that will be taken to respond to an emergency, i.e., class cancellations.

Timely Warnings

In the event that a situation arises, either on or off campus, that in the judgment of the Director of University Police and Public Safety, constitutes an on-going or continuing threat, a campus-wide “timely warning” will be issued. It will be decided on a case by case basis in light of all facts surrounding a crime, including the nature of the crime, the continuing danger to the campus community and the risk of compromising law enforcement efforts. The warning will be issued through the University e-mail system to students, faculty and staff. The University may also post a notice on the University website. In such instances, a copy of the notice may also be posted in each Residence Hall, in the Student Center, or the exterior electronic bulletin board. As always, anyone with information warranting a timely warning should report the circumstances to the William Paterson University Police by phone at, 973.720.2300 or in person at the Public Safety Building, located off of Pompton Road, through Entry #1, the first building on the left.

Emergency Evacuation

In every building on campus, there are exit signs and evacuation plans, which are affixed to the walls. You should become familiar with the exit routes and evacuation plans before an emergency occurs. In the event of an emergency, please remain calm, gather only what clothing would be required for the current weather conditions and exit the building. Do not use elevators in times of emergency!

Upon exiting the building, evacuation/fire wardens as well as Resident Assistants and Resident Directors in Resident Halls, are there to assist and ensure the evacuation is safe and complete. Please report to these individuals to be directed to a safe area. This will allow for a head count to be taken, during which time you could advise your loved ones that you are not in danger if such notification seems reasonable.

Emergency response is the responsibility of the University Police. Should the situation demand further response, mutual aid is provided by surrounding towns as well as the Passaic County Sheriff's Department. University Police will direct you further depending on the situation. If a different location for your safety is required they will coordinate that move.

Evacuation drills are conducted in every residential hall twice during every semester. Every other building on campus conducts these drills once a year. During these drills if you notice anything that may cause a safety concern during a real evacuation please notify the Fire Warden or Resident Director in charge of the drill. These drills are also evaluated by trained William Paterson University staff for further improvement of the evacuation policy and procedure. Evacuation drills are not announced and are also conducted with Evacuation Wardens who act as liaisons with the responding police units.

Evacuation Procedures

In the event of an emergency, students are advised to remain calm, gather only what clothing would be required for the current weather conditions and exit the building. Evacuation/Fire wardens as well as Resident Assistants and Resident Directors are there to assist and ensure the evacuation is complete. University Police will respond and provide further directions, depending on the situation. If a different location for the students' safety is required they will coordinate that move.

In case of a fire you should:

- A. Activate building fire alarm system;
- B. Call Ext. 2300 or 911 on any University telephone. On cellular or off campus phone dial 973.720.2300;
- C. Report the exact location of fire

In the event that a fire alarm sounds, please follow these procedures:

- A. Feel the closed door of your room. If it feels hot or the hallway is filled with smoke DO NOT OPEN THE DOOR. Go to your window and wait for rescue. If the door is cool, CLOSE YOUR WINDOWS before opening the door slowly.

B. Upon leaving the room, leave the lights on and the door CLOSED. Be sure to take your coat and key with you.

C. If you cannot leave the room:

1. Open the windows if there is smoke; if there is no smoke, leave the windows closed to prevent outside smoke from being drawn into the room.

2. Seal cracks around the door with towels, damp if possible.

3. If you are trapped, attract attention by hanging an object from the window - the brighter the color, the better. If outside smoke is drawn in, close the window, leaving the object hanging.

D. If smoke is severe, place a wet cloth over your nose, and remember to stay low, close to the floor where it is cooler and the air is cleaner.

E. When you are evacuating a building:

1. Walk at a brisk pace, but DO NOT RUN. Go to the nearest exit or stairway

2. Do not use elevators.

3. Follow the posted specific corridor instructions as to proper exit route and assembly point.

4. Move in a single file along the wall upon which the exit is located. Once outside the building move at least 75 ft. to 100 ft. away from the building.

5. Do not reenter the building until instructed to do so by a University official or Fire Warden.

6. Account for your presence; advise a warden or other responsible party that you have safely evacuated the facility.

Evacuation Wardens

Evacuation Wardens have been selected from the University staff and are people who would normally be on duty and are assigned to assist the safe evacuation of students, visitors and employees. PLEASE FOLLOW THE EVACUATION PLAN THAT HAS BEEN ESTABLISHED FOR YOUR BUILDING.

Once you have been evacuated, University Police may direct you to a secondary location, such as the Recreation Center or another similar location on campus. The purpose is to ensure your safety and account for your temporary placement. In the event of a general evacuation order you may be directed to use only certain exits throughout campus.

Crime Prevention Tips

William Paterson University is an academic community of over 12,000 people. The campus covers 370 acres of land in three different municipalities: Wayne, Haledon and North Haledon. As in all communities, crime is a potential threat to any member of the University Community. To help reduce vulnerability to crime, you should consistently practice preventative measures, such as the following:

1. Be aware that you are a potential victim of a crime.
2. Immediately notify the University Police Department if any person(s) or activity arouses your suspicion.
3. Avoid walking alone at night unless absolutely necessary.
4. If you must walk around campus, make sure to protect yourself
 - Use well-lit, commonly traveled routes;
 - Avoid shortcuts and dark isolated areas;
 - Walk purposefully, know where you are going, and project a no-nonsense image;
5. Protect yourself in your room
 - Avoid potentially dangerous situations;
 - Have your door keys ready; carry them in your pocket;
 - Park under parking lot lights.
6. Lock your door, even when you intend to return shortly and/or you are just going, “down the hall.” It takes a thief 10 seconds or less to enter your open room and remove your belongings;
- Lock or secure doors and windows when you are alone or asleep;
- Do not leave messages on your door indicating that you are away and when you will return;
- Do not allow strangers into your residence halls;
- Do not lend your key to anyone;
- Do not prop doors open.
7. Protect Your Automobile
 - Always lock your car door;
 - Do not leave tempting valuables visible in the vehicle.
8. Do not leave property unattended.

ed.

The Crime Spot was designed by the William Paterson University Police Department in order to prevent crimes of opportunity from occurring around the campus. This campaign involves Crime Spot cards, with the above graphic on them, that are handed to students that do not follow the above Crime Prevention Tips.

In Case of Emergency (I.C.E.)

William Paterson University Police recommends using I.C.E. numbers in personal cell phones. A student should list ICE, ICE1, ICE2, etc. in their cell phones and then store emergency contact telephone numbers, such as family or friends under these “ICE” headings. I.C.E. contacts can be utilized by Emergency Responders to call these contacts immediately should someone become sick or injured.

If a Violent Incident Should Occur

In an incident involving a person or persons on campus actively causing harm or the threat of imminent danger to any persons:

- Do not attempt to deal with the situation yourself. Call the University Police immediately at 973.720.2300.
- You should attempt to remove yourself from the immediate danger if possible.
- Try to stay calm. Once you have removed yourself from the apparent danger, remain where you are until given further direction by University Police or school authorities.
- If you are unable to remove yourself from the dangerous area but are still in the building where the incident is occurring, lock the door of your residence, academic room, or other facility. Remain there until notified by the University Police.
- If you see or hear something that suggests to you that a gun or other weapon is involved, call the University Police immediately. Provide as much detail as you can about the incident without placing yourself in harm's way. Be sure to include a description of the person or persons involved, the potential threat including possible weapons, the location and direction of flight taken by the actor(s), and the condition of any other victims. Do so when you have taken cover to the best of your ability. Do not attempt to disarm any individual; concentrate on removing yourself from the line of fire or the immediate threat.

Remember, the best time to deal with a violent incident is before it occurs. If you are aware that someone on campus has made a threat of violence toward another, it is your responsibility to contact the University Police with that information as soon as possible. If you are aware that someone on campus has illegal weapons, it is your responsibility to report this information to the University. It is William Paterson University policy and New Jersey State Law that guns or other weapons are prohibited on the campus.

Missing Resident Student Notification

On rare occasions, students become missing. In other words, there are times that a particular student's present whereabouts is unknown or unclear. In order for the university to account for the whereabouts of a resident student when that student is believed to be missing, this must be reported to the University Police immediately.

There is no amount of time that an individual must be missing in order to report an incident of this nature. The University Police will begin a missing person investigation as soon as it is reported. This investigation will be conducted as specified in the New Jersey Attorney General Guidelines and the William Paterson Missing Student Policy.

When a student applies for housing on campus, they have the option of supplying the name of a specific person and contact information for that person as a confidential contact, in the event that the student becomes missing. This contact could be a relative, a "best friend", a neighbor, a roommate, or any person who would be apt to have daily contact with the student.

The only reason for a student's confidential contact to be accessed by anyone is in the event that a student is believed to be missing. As a result, access to the confidential contacts of students is limited to supervisory persons employed within Residence Life, and access will be gained only if a student is believed to be missing.

In the event that a student is reported missing, a member of the University Police will have access to this information and contact them within 24 hours of the missing persons report being filed.

In cases of students less than 18 years of age, a parent or guardian would be notified immediately.

Within 24 hours of the report of the missing person being confirmed and being unresolved, the University Police will distribute a missing person alert to members of the campus community.

Sexual Assaults

William Paterson University has a very positive and safe environment, however incidents do occur. Do not continue to be a victim by failing to report an assault.

If you are sexually assaulted please remember the following:

Report the assault to the University Police as soon as possible by calling 973.720.2300.

The University Police have officers specially trained in sexual assault investigation.

Preserve all physical evidence. Do not wash, shower, eat, use the toilet or change clothes. If you must change your clothes, put all your clothing in a paper bag, not plastic.

University Police ensures that you will receive medical attention. A medical examination provides you with necessary treatments and collects important evidence. Injuries may not be immediately apparent.

The University Police notifies the Dean of Student Development. The Dean contacts a counselor who provides support, assistance, advocacy and information for the victim.

The University Police and counselors maintain confidentiality, help explain your options, give you information and provide emotional support. Should you wish to contact support services, the following centers are available:

WPU Women's Center:

One of these events, known as No Zebras, is the first program to focus on bystander mentality, addressing the impact of intervention on situations of sexual aggression. It stresses sexual aggression can no longer be ignored, empowering students to stand up, take a stand, and help keep others safe! These programs are required for all incoming freshman students at William Paterson University. Each program is performed by members of the nationally recognized group Sexual Aggression Peer Advocates and each topic is supplemented by current statistical information.

Sexual Assault Victim's Bill of Rights

The State of New Jersey recognizes that the impact of violence on its victims and the surrounding community can be severe and long-lasting. Thus, it has established the following Bill of Rights to articulate requirements for policies, procedures and services designed to ensure that the needs of victims are met and that the Colleges and Universities in New Jersey create and maintain communities that support human dignity. Campus sexual assault victims are entitled to the following under the Bill of Rights:

Intervention and treatment are also available for those who have problems with alcohol and drugs. These policies are also distributed annually electronically, when registering to all students in a manner requiring verification.

Residence Life Alcohol Policy

Residence Life Alcohol Policy (from Residence Life Handbook 2011-2012)

Alcoholic beverages and alcohol containers of any type (empty or full) are prohibited in the Overlook complex, White Hall, Hillside Hall, Century Hall, and High Mountain East and West at all times. Is My Child Safe On Campus?

This article was provided by PaperClip Communications:

As a parent, images of the recent horrors at Virginia Tech are probably lingering in your mind. You may be wondering, "How safe is my child on campus?" Students can help us in maintaining a safe, positive community. You can help by talking with your student about the importance of self- and community-responsibility.

Taking Care of Themselves

Encourage your student to;

- Lock their room door. Even though they "know everyone on their floor," they can't control guests and visitors strolling the hallways. Same goes for off-campus residences. Students never know who might make their way into the neighborhood.
- Ask who is at the door before opening it. The residence hall community does not have to be as informal as they think.

- Walk with a buddy late at night.
- Be smart about their use of alcohol and other drugs. Being under the influence makes it difficult for students to think clearly.
- Get to know the campus police officers.
- Be careful about information the student chooses to share on-line. Whether it's in an away message or on a social networking site, more people have access to their profile than they think.
- Keep their whereabouts "under wraps." Posting the student's schedule on their door or online is not a good idea.
- Keep their vehicle locked and store valuables out of site—and be cautious and aware when approaching their vehicle late at night.

Taking Care of the Community

Encourage your student to;

- Unprop propped doors to residence halls or other buildings on campus. This makes public safety's job more difficult and compromises the overall security measures in place.
- Deny strangers access to the student's residence hall (by not letting people in behind them) even if they think the person is a student. Your diligence will keep everyone that much safer.
- Treat the campus grounds with respect. Vandalizing and damaging directional signs, fire extinguishers and other safety equipment costs the college valuable funds and effort that could be directed to other areas. Plus, those items won't be available when a real emergency strikes.
- Report suspicious behaviors to appropriate campus officials, even if it's "just a hunch." This tip may be one of many being received about an individual. Every little bit of information about a potential threat is critical.

Working Together With Campus Officials

Campus officials are trained to work with college students. They have a great deal of expertise in helping manage difficult situations, referring students to the appropriate resources and working together to create a safe and positive educational environment. Encourage your student to ask for help when needed. Student Life professionals, University Police Officers, staff and faculty members will offer support and point your student in the right direction.

Access to Campus Facilities

University Offices are generally open from 8:00AM until 5:00PM. Classrooms are generally open at 8:00AM and remain so, until 10:20PM. Residence halls are open only to residents and their invited guests. Notice of the Residence Hall Policy for entering these buildings is posted on-site at the residence hall entrances under the State of New Jersey Trespassing Statutes.

In addition, all guests are expected to abide by William Paterson University rules and regulations. Resident students are responsible for any activities taking place in their rooms that are in violation of Residence Life or University policy. The University reserves the right to deny violators visitation privileges on a permanent basis. These individuals will be viewed as trespassers and are subject to arrest.

Resident Student Visitation Policy

As a member of the William Paterson University residential community, it is an expectation that residents take responsibility for their actions and are held accountable when violating University policy. The visitation policy has been established to give resident students the freedom to visit residential areas that they do not reside in, therefore with this privilege, comes the following expectations as a William Paterson University residential student:

1. Residents are held accountable for their actions and behaviors that occur in their rooms and/or apartments.
2. When visiting a residence hall in which you do not reside, if you are found to be in violation of University policy then you will be asked to leave and are subject to student disciplinary action and/or action from Campus, Local, State, or Federal Agencies.

business day. Confiscated ID's will only be released to the person to whom the ID card belongs.

procedures to follow during certain emergencies.

University and Community Police also conduct presentations for student and faculty/staff groups. Some of the topics discussed include crime prevention & personal safety, date rape, drug and alcohol awareness, and fire safety Tips. Annual Fire Safety Report On Residence Halls

Included in this report are all fire reports from 2009, 2010 and 2011.

Student Housing Fire Safety Systems Description

William Paterson University has a total of 10 student housing facilities. Each facility is equipped with fire detection systems; these include smoke and heat detectors, as well as fire alarm pull station. Each facility is equipped with fire sprinklers. These are supervised systems that all report to the University Police.

Mandatory Supervised Fire Drills

William Paterson University's Fire Safety Coordinator conducts mandatory evacuation drills twice a year. The fire evacuation drills are supervised by the Campus Fire Safety Inspector along with University Police and University employees. Fire evacuation drills are conducted by activating each resident hall fire alarm system.

Smoking Policy

The University complies with State Statute P.L. 1985 Chapter 184, which states that the right of the nonsmoker to breathe clean air supersedes the right of the smoker to smoke. Subchapter 11 of the Uniform Construction Code, January 21, 1993, addresses tobacco smoking in existing buildings occupied by public employees requiring that air from designated areas not be re-circulated into the building.

William Paterson University does not meet the required standards to accommodate designated smoking areas. Therefore, smoking is banned in all buildings on campus. All areas of the residence halls are smoke-free as well.

Enforcement

The success of this policy depends upon the thoughtfulness, consideration, and cooperation of smokers and nonsmokers. In the event of a conflict, individuals are encouraged to work out a compromise among themselves. If this effort proves unsuccessful, students will be referred to the Office of the Dean of Student Development, and faculty and staff to their supervisors.

For those who smoke, receptacles are available outside of buildings where cigarettes, cigars, etc., may be extinguished.

Fire Safety Education and Training Programs for Students, Faculty and Staff.

Fire Safety Training is conducted annually for Resident Directors, Resident Assistants, and building evacuation wardens by instructors from the Passaic County Fire Safety Academy and/or the Campus Fire Safety Inspector. Fire procedures are also stated in the William Paterson University Police Department's Student Guide for Emergencies as well as the Faculty and Staff Guide for Emergencies. Both of these publications are available on the University Police's website and the student guide is also distributed at orientations.

Future improvements to the fire system at William Paterson University will be made when necessary.

Reporting a Fire

Fires that occur on the campus of William Paterson University should immediately be reported to University Police by calling 973-720-2300 or 911. However, if notifying the William Paterson University Police Department is not possible, please report the fire or smoke condition to any and all William Paterson University staff or faculty members that are in the area.
