

African American Literature

From Enslavement to Black Lives Matter

English 6720-80: Online Summer Graduate Course

May 24th until June 30th

Dr. Donovan L. Ramon

We will study the chronological literature of African Americans from Phillis Wheatley through the current Black Lives Matter Movement. To do this, we will read all the modes of literature – drama, short story, poetry, fiction, non-fiction, and scholarly pieces about African American Literature.
