

TEACHING & LEARNING INSIDE

MAY 1, 2019
3:30-5PM
PATERSON ROOM
CHENG LIBRARY

Speakers:

Chris Agans, Director of Administrative Services at NJ STEP

NJ STEP coordinates services for students attending college in prison and connects them to colleges in the community. Mr. Agans will be speaking about the program and how professors at WPU may get involved teaching in New Jersey prisons.

Devon Simmons, the first student to graduate from John Jay College's celebrated Prison-to-College Pipeline (P2CP), will discuss his experiences earning an Associate's degree from CUNY while incarcerated.

Organized by Gennifer Furst, Cynthia Lee-Williams and Colleen Eren
Co-sponsored by Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice
The Center for Teaching Excellence, and the Department of Public Health
