Busting Myths About Human Nature

Dr. Agustin Fuentes

Professor of Anthropology at the University of Notre Dame. His current work focuses on cooperation and bonding in human evolution, ethno-primateology, evolutionary theory, and public perceptions of human nature.

April 8th 2013 2:00PM- 3:15PM Myths on Aggression

Library Auditorium

There are three major myths of human nature: humans are divided into biological races; humans are naturally aggressive; men and women are truly different in behavior, desires, and wiring. Fuentes presents scientific evidence from diverse fields, including anthropology, biology, and psychology, to counter these pervasive and pernicious myths and offer a nuanced account of how nature, culture, experience, and choice interact to influence human behavior.
