

Dear colleague:

The Center for Teaching Excellence is continuing its series of discussions of books relating to teaching and learning. Our next book is Why Teach?: In Defense of a Real Education, by Mark Edmundson.

Terry Finnegan of the History Department has proposed this book and will lead our discussion.

For a description of Why Teach? you might look at:
<http://bloombsbury.com/us/why-teach-9781620401071/>

Join the discussion and debate about this book on Thursday, March 27 at 3:30 in the Cheng Library's Paterson Room. Light snacks will be provided. If participants wish, the discussion may continue into subsequent meetings.

The group will be limited to twenty participants. If you'd like to join us, let us know as soon as possible so that we can send you a copy of the book. Please email RosenR@wpunj.edu<<mailto:RosenR@wpunj.edu>>.

Thanks.

Jim Hauser & Bob Rosen, CTE co-directors