University Research and Scholarship Day 2014 will provide the University community with an opportunity to show off our scholarly and creative activities. Presenters will include faculty, students, librarians and professional staff who have undertaken research or special initiatives on their own or who have received ART, Research & Travel Incentive Awards and research support from one of the colleges, or from WPUNJ, recipients of grants or contracts and outside fellowships.

Films produced by our WPUNJ scholars will be showcased throughout the day.

Participation of Students who have engaged in collaborative scholarship with faculty is encouraged

Call for Abstracts and presentation descriptions will be released in January 2014
