PIVOT: Search Tool to Find Funding Opportunities

Presented by Richard Kearney, Electronic Resources Librarian, David and Lorraine Cheng Library and Lourdes Bastas, Assistant Director, Office of Sponsored Programs

Description:

Pivot is the name of the University's newly acquired portal that gives individuals access to grant funding opportunities, research expertise and provides a forum for faculty and other researchers to collaborate with one another in every subject discipline. Once a personal account has been created faculty can search the system to find funding opportunities that are tailored towards their research interest. Faculty can also conduct searches to locate collaborators at other institutions with similar interest. PIVOT's powerful automated features are designed to support faculty in their research endeavors. All faculty and staff members are invited to participate in this workshop to find out how PIVOT can help.
