

Every Day is Fair Use Day!

February 25th, 11am-12:15pm, Cheng Library Auditorium

Open to all students, faculty and staff

Classes welcome

Do you know how to legally use copyrighted material such as images, music, text, and video in your papers, presentations, and projects? Have you ever heard of the doctrine of Fair Use? If not, let us help!

As part of Fair Use Week (<http://www.fairuseweek.org>), our panel will discuss how to apply your Fair Use rights to copyrighted material in your everyday teaching and learning. Fair Use Day is a great time to explore the opportunities presented by fair use, learn more about your legal rights to information, and celebrate successful fair use stories.

Panelists include:

Heidi Rempel, Art Department
Chris Weaver, English Department
David Demsey, Music Department
Donna Potacco, Science Enrichment Center

Come learn how to flex your Fair Use rights!

For more information,

contact Sandie Miller, millers@wpunj.edu

FAIR USE: IT'S THE LAW

EXERCISE YOUR COPYRIGHT RIGHTS IN THE CLASSROOM

Sponsored by Technology Across the Curriculum (TAC), the Cheng Library, and Instruction and Research Technology (IRT)