

Living Writers Series Event

Tuesday, February 20th, 12:30-2:00pm

Atrium Auditorium

Travel Writing with Joseph Dumas

Writer Joseph Dumas, a retired freelance journalist, spent 20-years working for a range of magazines and newspapers, including "The Times of London,"; AARP's "Modern Maturity," "People," "Black Enterprise," "Esquire" and "Playboy." For a decade, he was a contributing columnist in "Black Enterprise" magazine. A native of Natchez, Mississippi, he attended The University of Mississippi School of Journalism and lives in New York City. Presently, he is writing a non-fiction narrative about shamanism.