Special Announcement

NSF Webinar

Scholarships in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (S-STEM) Program

The Office of Sponsored Programs (OSP) invites you to participate in a webinar offered by the National Science Foundation.

Submissions to the NSF Scholarships in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (S-STEM) Program are due by Wednesday, March 28, 2018 by 5PM (local time) in response to NSF solicitation 17-527. To answer any questions about a potential submission, NSF S-STEM Program Directors are offering a webinar.

Please join OSP staff on Thursday, February 15 from 12PM until 2PM for a traditional webinar which will include an overview of the program and a period for question and answers.

If you cannot join OSP but would like to participate, the login information is as follow:

Meeting number (access code): 742 904 512

Meeting password: uVCjCm?2

Additional Information

Please note that proposals to the S-STEM program follow the limited submission process. If you are interested in applying, please contact OSP as soon as possible.

The National Science Foundation (NSF) is an independent federal agency created by Congress in 1950 "to promote the progress of science; to advance the national health, prosperity, and welfare; to secure the national defense...". The NSF is the funding source for approximately 24 percent of all federally supported basic research conducted by America's colleges and universities.

Please join the OSP staff on Thursday, February 15 at 12PM. RSVP to OSP is strongly encouraged as space is limited; please call or email: grants@wpunj.edu or 973-720-2852.

For additional information concerning the webinar or the NSF, please contact Christine Bravo at BravoC4@wpunj.edu or 973-720-3794.
