

Did you publish in 2019?

The Cheng Library staff is pleased to honor our University colleagues whose research and scholarship has resulted in books, journal articles and other substantial works – including media – with a bibliography of material published or released in 2019.

Join us at a reception on Tuesday April 21, 2020 to celebrate these scholarly achievements of the University community. There is no need to submit publications directly to the library. Simply enter (or update) the information on your published materials into Digital Measures for inclusion in this year's author bibliography. Only entries in Digital Measures will be included, and entries must be listed as "Published" in Digital Measures to ensure inclusion in the bibliography.

Enter your publication information into Digital Measures no later than

Thursday, February 20, 2020

This will ensure that your 2019 work is included in the bibliography.
