THE LEADER-INNOVATOR CERTIFICATE

You are tech and social media savvy. You see yourself as a leader, and look forward to being fully engaged with a company that does well by doing good. You understand that innovation requires change, and that your career growth depends on your capacity as a collaborative change-agent.

The Leader-Innovator Certificate Program is designed for you. In Part 1, you will learn to...

• Expand your critical thinking skills to more effectively consider complex challenges.
• Have the confidence to present your generational differences as advantages.
• Enhance your Emotional Intelligence…a key building block towards leadership.
• Develop your personal Leader-Innovator skill-set.

In Part 2, you will learn practical applications for these critical business skills...

• Work on a small team to complete a primary research project.
• Write, edit, and deliver an elevator pitch.
• The basics of win-win negotiating.
• Build, analyze and manipulate a pro-forma P&L, the first test for any new idea.
• Understand partnership development, from participants to proponents to advocates for a business.

Upon completion of both segments, the Leader-Innovator Certificate Award will provide a resume headline opportunity to set yourself apart as a collaborative change-agent.

MBA ESSENTIALS: FOUNDATIONS FOR BUSINESS

Business leaders acquire comprehensive finance, marketing and management knowledge and strengthen their skills in managing their companies, staff and clients with 6 courses in 36 hours of MBA Essentials. These courses are taught by leading professors from the Christos M. Cotsakos College of Business which is AACSB accredited. AACSB International accreditation represents the highest standard of achievement for business schools, worldwide. Institutions that earn accreditation confirm their commitment to quality and continuous improvement through a rigorous and comprehensive peer review. AACSB International accreditation means excellence in management education. The university’s Cotsakos College of Business and its MBA program have been ranked by the Princeton Review as one of the leading MBA programs in the country for the eighth straight year. Upon completion of these 6 courses, participants have the option to test and earn 3 graduate credits as an elective in the William Paterson University MBA Program. This program is run directly at your office or branch location, making it highly convenient for your employees. Each of the following MBA Essentials programs has been approved for 6 recertification credit hours toward PHR, SPHR and GPHR through the Human Resource Certification Institute (HRCI). Please be sure to note the program ID number on your recertification application form. For more information about certification or recertification, please visit the HRCI homepage at www.hrci.org.

ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR AND DESIGN
This course introduces the organizational setting and examines human behavior within organizations. Topics covered include: design, structure, technology and processes at the ‘macro’ level, and leadership, decision making, motivation and teamwork at the ‘micro’ level. Both theoretical underpinnings and practical applications are emphasized through class discussion, lecture and experiential exercises.

MARKETING FUNDAMENTALS
This course will provide an overview of the fundamental elements of marketing including consumer behavior, marketing research, marketing communications, and marketing management. You will begin with an examination of the role of marketing in corporations and its contribution to innovation. You will explore various facets of the marketing function with the help of in-class exercises and discussions. The course will conclude with a discussion concentrating on marketing’s contribution to strategy and sustainable business practices.

ACCOUNTING FOR MANAGERS
This course uses the Case Method and focuses on the content, analysis, and interpretation of the financial and managerial accounting information used by managers in making business decisions. The financial accounting section includes generally accepted accounting concepts and principles for internal and external financial reporting purposes. The management accounting section emphasizes cost behavior, cost management, and management control.

MANAGEMENT OF TECHNOLOGY
This course examines the role of technology on economic transformation. It will take an evolutionary view of technology, explaining its role in different points of world history. You will explore the role of technology in shrinking time/space boundaries (through innovations in transportation, telecommunications, internet and supply chain management). You will examine the role of technology in six different industries: apparel, automobiles, semiconductors, agrofoods, financial services, and logistics. You will also examine the changing contours of these industries in light of theories of innovation, as well as those of political economy.

FINANCE FOR NON-FINANCIAL MANAGERS
A most succinct description of the discipline of finance is that finance is the study of risk and return and the trade off function between the two. The field of Corporate Financial Management within this broad description of finance is concerned with maximizing corporate value by utilizing this complex trade off function. This course will provide a bird’s eye view of Corporate Financial Management and its relationship with the broad field of finance as a whole. Designed for non-specialists, this subject matter, including some of the models involved, will be treated in a simple and user friendly manner, focusing on the managerial use of the models and approaches, rather than the complexities of the quantitative relationships. The course will cover, but may not be limited to, some of the specific areas within Corporate Financial Management, such as: Corporate Financial Management and the Capital Market, the various functions of financial Management, Measurement of Risk and Return, Applications of the above in Corporate Finance, and an Introduction to Strategic Financial Management.

GLOBAL MANAGEMENT
This course will focus on the various issues involved with managing in a global environment today. It will concentrate on the recent changes in the infrastructure of commerce in the globalized world; the international regimes of institutions, rules, laws, treaties and other modes of governance; the new global circuits of capital; the mobility of international labor; the challenges of managing across cultures; and the emergence of new global players in the international arena.

Please call for customized training for your company:
• Organizational Behavior and Design
• Marketing Fundamentals
• Accounting for Managers
• Management of Technology
• Finance for Non-Financial Managers
• Global Management

Fee per Program: $450
Human resource issues impact every company in some way. That's why it's important to understand the fundamental issues surrounding HR today. SHRM, the leading global HR professional organization, has developed the SHRM Essentials® of Human Resources course, which provides an introductory overview of the human resource function. Whether you are new to HR or HR is one of many roles you fulfill at your company, this program, offered in partnership with SHRM through William Paterson University, covers the key HR topics you need to know. Developed by leading HR experts, HR practitioners, and legal counsel, the SHRM Essentials® of Human Resources course covers introductory HR topics in a condensed, easy-to-understand format. The straightforward format ensures that HR concepts can be mastered and applied to real-life situations. Along with classroom interaction with peers and the instructor, case study exercises threaded throughout the program provide opportunities to practice applying newly acquired HR skills during training prior to using them on the job.

BUILD A SOLID FOUNDATION IN HR MANAGEMENT SKILLS

By covering a breadth of practical HR topics, the SHRM Essentials® of Human Resources course provides the knowledge to perform daily tasks. Throughout this course, you will also:

- Review key pieces of federal legislation on sexual harassment, age discrimination, and the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA).
- Gain insights into employee recruitment and selection while avoiding legal pitfalls.
- Enhance your skills related to total compensation systems, pay increases and incentives, and employee benefits.
- Increase your knowledge of employee orientation, onboarding, professional development, and training.

ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR PROFESSIONAL | 300 Hours

No matter what industry you look at, individuals and their work product are part of a broad network of individuals arranged in a way that is meant to maximize productivity and decrease redundancy. In order to help move an organization forward, an individual’s communication and behavior is an important element in the success or failure or any organization. This course addresses exactly this concept of Organizational Behavior that dictates how a company functions on a daily basis. Students will have the opportunity to explore the behavior of the organization as a whole, the groups and individuals within it and those elements that contribute to a positive (or negative) work environment. Analyzing the impact of corporate politics, balanced and unbalanced power structures as well as individual communication styles and motivations can help individuals to navigate their way through complex organizations, help to improve organizations or even design their own successful organization based on these best practices. This course examines organizational theory and application. It provides a comprehensive review of individual, group, and organizational performance in relation to organizational structures in contemporary business settings.

Fee: $1,299  Course Number: P030

HR PROFESSIONAL | 300 Hours

The Human Resources Management course introduces human resources (HR) functions and related elements and activities to students wishing to enter a career in this field or anyone who runs or may start a business of their own. This course will outline for students the roles and responsibilities of members of a typical HR department, educating the staff that make up a particular firm in various corporate policies, rules and/or procedure as well as how their individual role will include HR-related activities, whether officially part of an HR department or not. Students will move through the evolution of HR management through to the modern functions of most HR divisions from the perspective of both management and subordinate employees. Further, students will explore various compensation structures and gain an understanding of the importance of maintaining fair and equitable compensation and benefit programs. To this end, students will be exposed to real-world situations and conflicts that may arise ranging from compensation to employee counseling, conflict resolution, discipline and termination alongside the legal and ethical implications of all of these points with respect to Equal Employment Opportunity requirements. Other critical areas such as training and development of staff with regard to many of the above mentioned issues as well as staffing and strategy will also be discussed. This course focuses on human resource management skills used by business managers in day-to-day operations. While focusing on the different aspects of human resource management and practices, problem solving and critical thinking skills are applied.

PROJECT MANAGEMENT

PROJECT MANAGEMENT CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

This introductory program covers the fundamental methodologies and applications of Project Management and prepares participants for the Project Management Professional (PMP) or the Certified Associate in Project Management (CAPM) exam. The course material covers the key project management topics recognized by the Project Management Institute including: thorough review of the project management bodies of knowledge, processes, and several in-depth tools/techniques to master the concepts that are covered in the PMP exam as well as the CAPM exam. The required study-aid material to pass the PMP exam and the CAPM exam is the textbook: A Guide to the Project Management Body, Fifth Edition. The key topics for the course include the bodies of management knowledge (integration, scope, time, cost, quality, human resources, communications, risk, and procurement) and the phases of the project life cycle (initiation, planning, and execution, controlling, monitoring, and closing). The course also provides: case studies describing real world versus concept project management analogies, management organizational structures, successful versus unsuccessful leadership traits, management versus leadership distinctions, project management application templates, over 400 PMP exam prep questions, instructions on how to apply for the PMP or CAPM exam, and several tips to help you prepare for the exam, online projects and chats will be included as needed.

SIX SIGMA GREEN BELT | 150 Hours
The Six Sigma Green Belt certification helps professionals to strengthen organizations by employing the core concepts of Six Sigma geared toward enhanced problem-solving skills with an emphasis on the DMAIC (Define, Measure, Analyze, Improve, and Control) model. Six Sigma Green Belt professionals are tasked with supporting the project lead, most likely a Six Sigma Black Belt and provides a stepping stone to this advanced classification as well. Successful participants in this class will be poised to work on small, defined Six Sigma projects within an organization requiring less oversight by the assigned manager (presumably a Six Sigma Black Belt). This ability to free up supervisory time reduces costs and increases productivity for entire projects, which present significant value to both current and prospective employers.

The Six Sigma Green Belt course presents an overview of the key concepts for the Six Sigma Green Belt Certification exam. Students will explore processes and team management, operational metrics, and key tools and techniques to achieve process excellence. This course is designed to prepare students to sit for the Six Sigma Green Belt Certification exam offered by the American Association for Quality.

SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT

GLOBAL SUPPLY CHAIN CERTIFICATION
Global Supply Chain Management is the integration of the activities that procure materials and services transforming them into immediate goods and final products, and deliver them to customers. These activities include purchasing and outsourcing activities, plus many other functions that are important to the relationship with suppliers and distributors. The supply chain includes all the interactions between internal operations, marketing, sales, suppliers, manufacturers, distributors, and customers. The chain includes transportation, scheduling information, cash and credit transfers as well as ideas, designs, and material transfers. The intent of the course is to teach students techniques and methods employed by supply chain managers to plan and control the supply chain operating systems. Students will apply quantitative methods, various analytical techniques as well as utilize practical experience in order to understand how to operate, design, plan and control supply chain operations. This course utilizes a set of operations management skills and tools that students can use to enable their companies to develop a competitive advantage in commercial environments that encompass global markets and competition, electronic business (e-business), and supply chain management. Students are expected to have a solid understanding of production and operations management in order to solve complex supply chain case studies.

Instructor: Yvonne Zuidema  Date: Tuesday, November 14, 2017  Time: 6:00 pm - 9:00 pm  Fee: $70  Course Number: B018

NON-PROFIT MARKETING
Most not-for-profits do not function with large-scale budgets as do any private corporations and for-profit organizations. In fact, tight budgets and restrictions on the use of income, along with the absence of dedicated communications professionals, often result in reticence for adopting new ideas and expansion into new areas. This program provides a sound understanding of the benefits of a carefully orchestrated marketing and public relations campaign grounded in a Marketing mindset. Topics include: researching and reaching your target market, comprehensive use of technology, partnering with the public, as well as with businesses in innovative, low cost/no cost ‘cause’ marketing campaigns, and generating positive media coverage.

Instructor: Yvonne Zuidema  Date: Thursday, Nov. 16, 2017  Time: 6:00 pm - 9:00 pm  Fee: $70  Course Number: B026

ETHICAL ISSUES FOR NON-PROFITS
Non-profits are held to the highest standards with regards to conflict of interest, sound governance and truth in fundraising. This workshop will highlight current “hot topics” affecting charitable non-profit organizations. You will learn about the effect Sarbanes-Oxley legislation has had on non-profits, ways that your non-profit can become more accountable, and more.

Instructor: Jerry Flach  Date: Monday, Nov. 20, 2017  Time: 6:30 pm - 9:30 pm  Fee: $70  Course Number: B008

FUNDRAISING FOR NON-PROFITS

DIGITAL/WEB FOR BUSINESS

DIGITAL GRAPHIC DESIGN CERTIFICATION
Updated for Adobe Creative Cloud, this course has been re-designed and enhanced to meet the requirements of today’s digital designer. We cover the fundamental elements of graphic/web design using the latest versions of the most in-demand software programs in the digital design industry today – Photoshop, Illustrator and InDesign. In addition, the course now includes WordPress for the rapid development of web pages.

Students will learn to use Photoshop for image preparation and Illustrator to create original graphics and stylized text for both print and digital media. We then bring these visual elements together using InDesign to structure page content/layout for both printing and ePub documents for electronic distribution, and WordPress for generated web pages. Course projects include creating original graphics for a corporate brand and applying it consistently across different media platforms. This is an introductory course and no experience with Adobe Creative Cloud or WordPress is required. However, please be comfortable using Microsoft Windows and Windows File Management prior to enrolling in this course. Open enrollment is available at the start of each session.

Course Overview:
• Photoshop (4 weeks)
• Illustrator (3 weeks)
• InDesign/WordPress(3 weeks)

COMP TIA

THE COMPTIA A+ SPECIALIST PROGRAM
The CompTIA A+ course will build upon students’ existing user-level knowledge and experience with personal computer software and hardware in order to present fundamental concepts and techniques that technicians will use every day on the job. Upon completing this course, students will gain the essential skills and technical expertise necessary to install, upgrade, configure, troubleshoot, optimize, repair and perform preventative maintenance on basic personal computer hardware and operating systems.

The CompTIA A+ course provides students with the basic knowledge and skills necessary for a career in PC support. The course is designed to fully prepare students to sit for and pass the CompTIA A+ 220-801 and 220-802 certification exams. The exam covers a broad range of hardware and software technologies that is not tied to any specific vendor products. Examinees must successfully complete 2 parts for the exam – Essentials and Practical Applications modules. Provided both modules are passed within a 90-day period, successful candidates will receive CompTIA A+ Certification. Course topics include installation, configuration, preventative maintenance of PC hardware components, and the basics of networking, security, virtualization, desktop imaging, and deployment. Students will also gain knowledge of diagnostic and troubleshooting processes for various types of technical issues.

Dates: Open Enrollment
Time: Online Course

COMPTIA N+ NETWORK SPECIALIST
Computer Technology Industry Association (CompTIA) N+ training offers mid-level certification to for network professionals. Designed to ensure competency of network technicians in configuring and supporting TCP/IP clients and the OSI model, CompTIA N+ training and certification ensures students have the skills necessary for hardware setup, network design, cabling, configuration, installation, troubleshooting and support. Earning CompTIA N+ Certification means that the individual possesses the knowledge and skills necessary to be a successful network professional offering a nationally recognized and industry-recognized credential for experienced network technicians. Indeed, the most widely known technology companies recommend or require CompTIA N+ Certification for their networking technicians.

The CompTIA Network+ course provides students with the basic knowledge and skills necessary to become an IT network practitioner. This course is designed to fully prepare students to sit for and pass the CompTIA Network+ Certification exam. Students will gain the knowledge and skills necessary to manage, maintain, troubleshoot, install, operate, and configure basic network infrastructure as well as describe networking technologies, understand basic design principles, adhere to wiring standards, and use testing tools. This course offers a technical prerequisite option for IT technicians seeking to join the Apple Consultants Network and is recognized by various federal and state government agencies. Additional job roles for prospective candidates include network technician, network installer, network administrator, help desk technician and IT cable installer.

COMPTIA S+ SECURITY SPECIALIST

Computer Technology Industry Association (CompTIA) S+ training designates knowledgeable professionals in the field of IT security. As an international, vendor-neutral credential, CompTIA S+ certification ensures successful students gain competency in network security, compliance and operational security, common/possible threats and vulnerabilities, application, data and host security, access control and identity management as well as cryptography. Earning CompTIA S+ Certification signifies to employers that candidates will apply their knowledge of security concepts, tools and procedures to prevent security breaches, react accordingly to any security incidents and anticipate further security risks in order to effectively guard against them. Many well-known companies, government contractors and government agencies employ CompTIA S+ certified staff in order to ensure the quality of their work and CompTIA S+ is also one of the options for certifications required by the US Department of Defense for both military personnel and contractors engaged in information security activities.

The CompTIA Security+ course provides students with the basic knowledge and skills necessary to become an IT security professional. This course is designed to fully prepare students to sit for and pass the CompTIA Security+ certification exam. Students will gain the knowledge and skills necessary to identify risk and participate in risk mitigation activities as well as provide infrastructure, application, operational and information security. They will also acquire the knowledge necessary to apply security controls to maintain confidentiality, integrity and availability, as well as how to identify appropriate technologies and products.

Finally, students will gain an awareness of applicable policies, laws and regulations with regard to IT security. Prospective job roles for successful candidates include security engineer, security architect, security assurance technician, security consultant/specialist, systems administrator, network administrator and security administrator. CompTIA N+ certification plus 2 years of technical networking experience with a focus on security is recommended for success on the exam.

JAVA PROGRAMMING SPECIALIST

Java is a programming language and computing platform running on hundreds of millions of personal computers worldwide and billions of devices across the globe including mobile devices and televisions. If you own a computer, smartphone or other device, chances are you’ve interacted with some form of Java. Designed to be less complicated than many of its predecessors, Java is easily accessible for most programmers and enables them to develop computer programs faster and easier than ever before.

As the number one development platform and the number one language used for enterprise programming and development, Java training offers students the opportunity to learn the universal Java programming language and technology in order to develop robust programs and applications quickly and efficiently using any platform. In fact, the Java platform can be used with many software applications including all Windows versions, Solaris, Unix open source operating systems and the Apple operating software as well as most Web browsers allowing for great interaction and usability.

Java developers work across all areas of the computer programming field writing software that will run on many different kinds of devices. Often used by application developers, web developers or operating system engineers, all of these professionals use Java Programming on a daily basis. Moreover, Java developers are needed to integrate their code with software already written in other languages such as HTML5 of C++ and are in high demand as this industry moves at a faster and faster clip. So pervasive across the growing programming fields, certification in Java is a great way for new entrants to break into the field and prove their expertise to prospective employers and can help to secure higher salaries as well.

The Java Programming I course is designed to prepare students to sit for the Oracle Certified Associate, Java SE 7 Programmer exam.

PROGRAMMABLE LOGIC CONTROLLERS

The Programmable Logic Controllers program will provide the basic technical skills and knowledge necessary to work with electrical control systems typically found in an industrial environment. The program investigates the operation of various control systems including both discrete and analog control devices. Emphasis is placed on the use and programming of PLCs in a complex industrial control system. This highly innovative distance education program combines state-of-the-art PLC simulation with interactive multimedia curriculum. The program content is delivered on CD-ROM and is supported through the Virtual Campus which provides online testing, technical and tutorial support. Technical and tutorial support is provided via e-mail and telephone. The program is designed to allow students to complete all aspects of the program and receive a PLC Technician certificate while studying at home using a highly interactive learning package.

The learning materials consist of a CD-ROM with 19 modules containing text, audio, animations, computer-based testing, and PLC simulation software.

CODING BOOTCAMP

The Coding Bootcamp at William Paterson University is a comprehensive program that includes four months of classroom instruction with lectures, exercises, and projects. In addition, students are also given a two-month period where they have mentorship/guidance for the job application process through resume review workshops and more! What makes The Coding Bootcamp here at William Paterson University unique is that beginners with little or no previous knowledge of coding are able to get jobs as programmers after completion. It’s all made possible with having an expert teach the course who knows the entire process from learning and teaching to applying and interviewing for jobs.

Python is often hailed as one of the best programming languages for first-time coders to learn as they break into programming. It’s the main technology powering big data, finance, and statistics, and it’s clean syntax reads like English. Python developers are in demand, not to mention the average Python developer in New York City earns $110,000 per year! Companies like Amazon, Dropbox, and Dell are built on Python, making it a great time to learn.

Whether you have never programmed before, already know basic syntax, or want to learn about the advanced features of Python, this course is for you! This course includes quizzes, tests, and homework assignments as well as 3 major projects to create a Python project portfolio!

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT CERTIFICATION
Emergency management provides a structure for anticipating and responding to emergency incidents. Emergency management involves emergency service agencies as well as participants from government and private sectors. Emergency management activities are divided into phases before, during, and after emergency events.

Introduction to Emergency Management presents a broad overview of the emergency management system in use at the local, state, and federal levels. This program reinforces the importance of event pre-planning and exercise as well as an integrated, multi-jurisdictional approach to managing emergencies. This program will enable the student to formulate the elements of an integrated teamwork system and devise specific actions for improving their own contributions to the emergency management system. The development and implementation of the National Response Plan (NRP) will also be covered.

Instructor: Richard Baird

GLOBAL CITIZENSHIP AND INTERNATIONAL STUDIES CERTIFICATION

Our Global Citizenship and International Studies Certification (GCIS) program provides students with the opportunities for professional development in the field of Global Citizenship and International without the formal pursuit of a degree. The program is ideal for all students whether they be undergraduates looking to add a global dimension to their learning, or graduate students, and mid-career professional. The Interdisciplinary Program complements a variety of fields of study and majors.

CITIZENSHIP & CIVIC ENGAGEMENT
Have you ever voted? Do you know who your Congressman is? This course serves as your introduction to understanding the connections between learning and active citizenship in a democracy. You will gain insight into the value and limitations of government in delivering what we, the American people, want. You will tackle questions related to the meaning and nature of community, the construction of social problems, and the possible roles different actors (e.g. individuals, non-profit and for-profit organizations, and the state) play in shaping and responding to these problems.

GLOBAL CULTURES & THE AMERICAN DREAM
There has been a romanticized view of the United States as a landscape of pure possibility. From the 17th century to the present, an ever-shifting “American Dream” has been the repository of Americans’ longing for a new kind of personal and national life. In this class, we will consider how Americans have imagined their dream in terms of everything from political freedom to home ownership. We will look at issues of settlement and population including past and present immigration attitudes/policies, cultural identities, and general demographic patterns. The class will unpack the painful narratives of slavery as experienced by the most marginalized voices, who endured hundreds of years of slavery. There will be focus on economic issues including industrialization, post-industrial change, and the impact of capitalism.

CREATING CHARACTER IN FICTION
In this two day workshop, we will explore how to make characters that step off the page and capture your reader’s imagination. Character driven fiction in any genre is what separates the merely good from the great. Learn how to give your characters “warts” - tics, habits, turns of phrase - that make them unique. Learn to avoid cliché and use language that will create the character you want to build. We will read excerpts from work which exemplifies our goals. Come prepared to write!

WHAT’S YOUR STORY?
In a two day, intensive workshop we will delve into your memory and start writing true stories. Memoir writing has to be true but it also has to be compelling and follow the rules of storytelling. We will discuss, therefore, what goes into making a story. Looking at your own flaws, baring the naked truth, and telling an honest story is what makes memoir such a sought after genre. We will read examples from some of the great memoirists of our time. Come prepared to write!

Instructor: Judy Hall
Dates: October 21 – October 28, 2017
Days: Saturdays
Time: 9:00 am - 12:00 pm
Fee: $70

YOU SAID WHAT?
In two workshops, we will probe the discourse of dialogue. Should you use vernacular or stick to Standard English? How can you differentiate your characters through dialogue alone? In our time together we will read dialogue from great writers, write our own dialogue from prompts, and read aloud each other's work. Honest and helpful criticism from your instructor and peers is essential to the writing process. Prepare to write and read - and listen!

CONTEMPORARY POETRY WRITING WORKSHOP
Thankfully, poetry isn’t dead. In fact—it’s thriving with life! Come explore some of today’s most exciting texts—from voices of protest all the way to voices of the avant-garde. We will also be reading essays on the craft, watching films, and workshop poems that you will write in class and outside of class. If poetry is your passion, a rainy day hobby, or somewhere in between, come find out how to take your work to a new level!

Instructor: Scott Wordsman

ESSENTIALS OF ESSAY WRITING
The essay is no longer confined to its place in just the classroom. With creative nonfiction becoming a rapidly popular genre, writers now are publishing essays with major magazines and publishing houses. In this course, we will read traditional essays as well as explore aspects of poetry and memoir which utilize the essay form. Ultimately, we will learn how to formulate arguments, workshop our writing, and discover what it means to turn an opinion into a well-organized, original piece of literature.
