JOB FAIR

The School for Continuing and Professional Education is committed to working with the students and graduates of our programs to help them find employment. We hold two job fairs throughout the year that are open to all William Paterson University students and the surrounding communities. We hosted approximately 42 companies at our last Job Fair on January 16, 2016. All companies invited to our job fairs are actively hiring. There will be companies from a variety of industries (insurance, healthcare, manufacturing, security, transportation, bio/sciences, etc.). As many as 400 job seekers, including seasoned professionals attended.

In addition to the vendors, three free workshops are available for everyone: “How to Apply for Government Jobs,” “Using Social Media in Your Job Search,” and “Resume Critiquing.” Please check our website (www.wpunj.edu/cpe) for updates and information.

MBA ESSENTIALS: FOUNDATIONS FOR BUSINESS

Business leaders acquire comprehensive finance, marketing and management knowledge and strengthen their skills in managing their companies, staff and clients with 6 courses in 36 hours of MBA Essentials. These courses are taught by leading professors from the Christos M. Cotsakos College of Business which is AACSB accredited. AACSB International accreditation represents the highest standard of achievement for business schools, worldwide. Institutions that earn accreditation confirm their commitment to quality and continuous improvement through a rigorous and comprehensive peer review. AACSB International accreditation means excellence in management education. The university's Cotsakos College of Business and its MBA program have been ranked by the Princeton Review as one of the leading MBA programs in the country for the eighth straight year. Upon completion of these 6 courses, participants have the option to test and earn 3 graduate credits as an elective in the William Paterson University MBA Program. This program is run directly at your office or branch location, making it highly convenient for your employees. Each of the following MBA Essentials programs has been approved for 6 recertification credit hours toward PHR, SPHR and GPHR through the Human Resource Certification Institute (HRCI). Please be sure to note the program ID number on your recertification application form. For more information about certification or recertification, please visit the HRCI homepage at www.hrci.org.

MBA ESSENTIALS and all Certificate Programs can be taught on-site at your company. Call (973) 720-3035 today to learn about our Customized Training Programs.

FINANCE FOR NON-FINANCIAL MANAGERS
A most succinct description of the discipline of finance is that finance is the study of risk and return and the trade off function between the two. The field of Corporate Financial Management within this broad description of finance is concerned with maximizing corporate value by utilizing this complex trade off function. This course will provide a bird's eye view of Corporate Financial Management and its relationship with the broad field of finance as a whole. Designed for non-specialists, this subject matter, including some of the models involved, will be treated in a simple and user friendly manner, focusing on the managerial use of the models and approaches, rather than the complexities of the quantitative relationships. The course will cover, but may not be limited to, some of the specific areas within Corporate Financial Management, such as: Corporate Financial Management and the Capital Market, the various functions of financial Management, Measurement of Risk and Return, Applications of the above in Corporate Finance, and an Introduction to Strategic Financial Management.

Please call for customized training for your company:
- Organizational Behavior and Design
- Marketing Fundamentals
- Accounting for Managers
- Management of Technology
- Finance for Non-Financial Managers
- Global Management

Fee per Program: $450
SHRM ESSENTIALS® OF HR MANAGEMENT

Human resource issues impact every company in some way. That’s why it’s important to understand the fundamental issues surrounding HR today. SHRM, the leading global HR professional organization, has developed the SHRM Essentials® of HR Management course, which provides an introductory overview of the human resource function. Whether you are new to HR or HR is one of many roles you fulfill at your company, this program, offered in partnership with SHRM through William Paterson University, covers the key HR topics you need to know. Developed by leading HR experts, HR practitioners, and legal counsel, the SHRM Essentials® of HR Management course covers introductory HR topics in a condensed, easy-to-understand format. The straightforward format ensures that HR concepts can be mastered and applied to real-life situations. Along with classroom interaction with peers and the instructor, case study exercises threaded throughout the program provide opportunities to practice applying newly acquired HR skills during training prior to using them on the job.

BUILD A SOLID FOUNDATION IN HR MANAGEMENT SKILLS

By covering a breadth of practical HR topics, the SHRM Essentials® of HR Management course provides the knowledge to perform daily tasks. Throughout this course, you will also:

- Review key pieces of federal legislation on sexual harassment, age discrimination, and the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA).
- Gain insights into employee recruitment and selection while avoiding legal pitfalls.
- Enhance your skills related to total compensation systems, pay increases and incentives, and employee benefits.
- Increase your knowledge of employee orientation, onboarding, professional development, and training.

ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR PROFESSIONAL

ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR

No matter what industry you look at, individuals and their work product are part of a broad network of individuals arranged in a way that is meant to maximize productivity and decrease redundancy. In order to help move an organization forward, an individual’s communication and behavior is an important element in the success or failure of any organization. This course addresses exactly this concept of Organizational Behavior that dictates how a company functions on a daily basis. Students will have the opportunity to explore the behavior of the organization as a whole, the groups and individuals within it and those elements that contribute to a positive (or negative) work environment. Analyzing the impact of corporate politics, balanced and unbalanced power structures as well as individual communication styles and motivations can help individuals navigate their way through complex organizations, help to improve organizations or even design their own successful organization based on these best practices. This course examines organizational theory and application. It provides a comprehensive review of individual, group, and organizational performance in relation to organizational structures in contemporary business settings.

Dates: Open Enrollment
Time: Online Course
Fee: $1,299
Course Number: P030

PROJECT MANAGEMENT

PROJECT MANAGEMENT CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

This introductory program covers the fundamental methodologies and applications of Project Management and prepares participants for the Project Management Professional (PMP) or the Certified Associate in Project Management (CAPM) exam. The course material covers the key project management topics recognized by the Project Management Institute including: thorough review of the project management bodies of knowledge, processes, and several in-depth tools/techniques to master the concepts that are covered in the PMP exam as well as the CAPM exam. The required study-aid material to pass the PMP exam and the CAPM exam is the textbook: A Guide to the Project Management Body, Fifth Edition. The key topics for the course include the bodies of management knowledge (integration, scope, time, cost, quality, human resources, communications, risk, and procurement) and the phases of the project life cycle (initiation, planning, and execution, controlling, monitoring, and closing). The course also provides: case studies describing real-world versus concept project management analogies, management organizational structures, successful versus unsuccessful leadership traits, management versus leadership distinctions, project management application templates, over 400 PMP exam prep questions, instructions on how to apply for the PMP or CAPM exam, and several tips to help you prepare for the exam, online projects and chats will be included as needed.

CAREER TRANSITION PROGRAMS

YOUR NEXT GREAT STEP
You will make the transition from the job you have today to the one you aspire to have tomorrow. This course will provide the skills and knowledge necessary to reduce the fear and anxiety associated with the entire job search process, shortening the time to achieve a successful outcome. This course is important because it brings fresh thinking, proven tools and techniques and focuses on four key areas:

• Defining Success – creating realistic and measurable goals for yourself.
• Strategy – answering these four questions:
  ◦ What skills do I bring to the market?
  ◦ Who will I bring my skills to?
  ◦ Why is a company hiring?
  ◦ Why hire me over someone else?
• Value – differentiating yourself to compete against people with similar credentials.
• Execution – how to plan ahead for every interaction and attain the desired outcome.

This course will provide the opportunity to practice key tools and receive immediate feedback from your instructor.

Beth Hendler-Grunt, founder of Next Great Step, is a dynamic leader, advisor and facilitator with extensive experience advising top business leaders, universities and individuals and guiding them to success. Next Great Step addresses the challenges of college students, graduates and workers in transition by helping them achieve career success.

SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT

GLOBAL SUPPLY CHAIN CERTIFICATE
Global Supply Chain Management is the integration of the activities that procure materials and services transforming them into immediate goods and final products, and deliver them to customers. These activities include purchasing and outsourcing activities, plus many other functions that are important to the relationship with suppliers and distributors. The supply chain includes all the interactions between internal operations, marketing, sales, suppliers, manufacturers, distributors, and customers. The chain includes transportation, scheduling information, cash and credit transfers as well as ideas, designs, and material transfers. The intent of the course is to teach students techniques and methods employed by supply chain managers to plan and control the supply chain operating systems. Students will apply quantitative methods, various analytical techniques as well as utilize practical experience in order to understand how to operate, design, plan and control supply chain operations. This course utilizes a set of operations management skills and tools that students can use to enable their companies to develop a competitive advantage in commercial environments that encompass global markets and competition, electronic business (e-business), and supply chain management. Students are expected to have a solid understanding of production and operations management in order to solve complex supply chain case studies.

FORMING A NON-PROFIT CORPORATION 501(C)(3)
Starting a non-profit organization can be a very rewarding but complex experience. The vast majority of non-profits are started by passionate, creative individuals who want to protect, restore, or enhance the wellbeing of the people in their community. The process of incorporating might seem daunting but knowing how to begin will make the start-up process more feasible and build the individual’s confidence level as they move forward in bringing their mission and vision to fruition.

These workshops will provide students with the background knowledge and skills needed to effectively start up, and lead a non-profit organization. Most non-profits are 501(c)(3) corporations, meaning they are formed for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, thus they are eligible for federal and state tax exemptions. Workshop participants will receive step-by-step instructions on obtaining a federal 501(c)(3) tax exemption as well as how to qualify for public charity status with the IRS.

- Know the advantages and disadvantages of forming a non-profit organization
- Know the difference between 501(c)(3) and other 501(c) organizations
- Understand the process of starting a 501(c)(3) and adhering to non-profit requirements specific to the State of New Jersey
- Set goals and define the mission and vision statements while developing a business plan
- Develop an organizational financial budget
- Utilize best practices to form a Board of Directors
- Adopt articles of incorporation, bylaws and first meeting minutes
- Complete an IRS tax-exemption application using IRS Form 1023 Includes: 2 four-hour classes, textbook, handouts and a CD with applications, forms, etc. needed for 501(c)(3) filing

FEDERAL SMALL BUSINESS CERTIFICATION CONFERENCE  Fee: Free
The 8(a) Business Development Program an essential instrument for helping socially and economically dis-advantaged entrepreneurs gain access to the economic mainstream of American society and participate in the federal marketplace. Established businesses that have at least two years of sales can gain access to set-aside requirements and unique sole-source authority. The program helps thousands of aspiring entrepreneurs gain a foothold in government contracting.

The HUBZone Empowerment Contracting Program seeks to encourage economic development in historically underutilized business zones, “HUBZones” through the establishment of set-aside requirements, limited sole source authority, and a unique competitive price preference.

The WOSB/EDWOSB set-aside a contracting program which began in February 2011 and was recently updated effective October 15, 2015 to include limited sole source authority. To be eligible, a firm must be at least 51% owned, controlled, and managed by one or more women who are U.S. citizens. In order for a WOSB to be deemed “economically disadvantaged,” its owners must demonstrate an economic disadvantage in accordance with the requirements set forth in the final rule. These procurement mechanisms are meant to increase federal contracting opportunities and to assist entrepreneurs in linking up with federal contracts offering set asides.

DIGITAL/WEB FOR BUSINESS

DIGITAL GRAPHIC DESIGN CERTIFICATE
Updated for Adobe Creative Cloud, this course has been re-designed and enhanced to meet the requirements of today’s digital designer. We cover the fundamental elements of graphic/web design using the latest versions of the most in-demand software programs in the digital design industry today – Photoshop, Illustrator and InDesign. In addition, the course now includes WordPress for the rapid development of web pages. Students will learn to use Photoshop for image preparation and Illustrator to create original graphics and stylized text for both print and digital media. We then bring these visual elements together using InDesign to structure page content/layout for both printing and ePub documents for electronic distribution, and WordPress for generated web pages. Course projects include creating original graphics for a corporate brand and applying it consistently across different media platforms. This is an introductory course and no experience with Adobe Creative Cloud or WordPress is required. However, please be comfortable using Microsoft Windows and Windows File Management prior to enrolling in this course. Open enrollment is available at the start of each session.

Course Overview
• Photoshop
• Illustrator
• InDesign/Wordpress

Learn InDesign and WordPress to design powerful page layouts for both print and digital media. Students explore the fundamentals of InDesign to control document content and layout. You will start with the basics of setting up documents, working with text and type styles. After mastering these skills, you will then learn to enhance your pages by placing images, managing color, using transparency, applying formatting, defining styles and outputting files for print and ePub electronic distribution. Open source WordPress provides a robust set of tools for creating complete web sites. It has many features that makes it one of the premier web development environments today, including: the use of templates for fast web page development, scalable pages and mobile ready across different platforms, end user content management, search engine optimization, and a range of hosting options including full business e-commerce.

CompTIA

THE COMPTIA A+ SPECIALIST PROGRAM
The CompTIA A+ course will build upon students’ existing user-level knowledge and experience with personal computer software and hardware in order to present fundamental concepts and techniques that technicians will use every day on the job. Upon completing this course, students will gain the essential skills and technical expertise necessary to install, upgrade, configure, troubleshoot, optimize, repair and perform preventative maintenance on basic personal computer hardware and operating systems.

The CompTIA A+ course provides students with the basic knowledge and skills necessary for a career in PC support. The course is designed to fully prepare students to sit for and pass the CompTIA A+ 220-801 and 220-802 certification exams. The exam covers a broad range of hardware and software technologies that is not tied to any specific vendor products. Examinees must successfully complete 2 parts for the exam – Essentials and Practical Applications modules. Provided both modules are passed within a 90-day period, successful candidates will receive CompTIA A+ Certification. Course topics include installation, configuration, preventative maintenance of PC hardware components, and the basics of networking, security, virtualization, desktop imaging, and deployment. Students will also gain knowledge of diagnostic and troubleshooting processes for various types of technical issues.

Dates: Open Enrollment
Time: Online Course
Fee: $1,499
Course Number: P026

COMPTIA N+
Computer Technology Industry Association (CompTIA) N+ training offers mid-level certification for network professionals. Designed to ensure competency of network technicians in configuring and supporting TCP/IP clients and the OSI model, CompTIA N+ training and certification ensures students have the skills necessary for hardware setup, network design, cabling, configuration, installation, troubleshooting and support. Earning CompTIA N+ Certification means that the individual possesses the knowledge and skills necessary to be a successful network professional offering a nationally recognized and industry-recognized credential for experienced network technicians. Indeed, the most widely known technology companies recommend or require CompTIA N+ Certification for their networking technicians.

The CompTIA Network+ course provides students with the basic knowledge and skills necessary to become an IT network practitioner. This course is designed to fully prepare students to sit for and pass the CompTIA Network+ Certification exam. Students will gain the knowledge and skills necessary to manage, maintain, troubleshoot, install, operate, and configure basic network infrastructure as well as describe networking technologies, understand basic design principles, adhere to wiring standards, and use testing tools. This course offers a technical prerequisite option for IT technicians seeking to join the Apple Consultants Network and is recognized by various federal and state government agencies. Additional job roles for prospective candidates include network technician, network installer, network administrator, help desk technician and IT cable installer.

Dates: Open Enrollment
Time: Online Course
Fee: $1,499
Course Number: P027

COMPTIA S+
Computer Technology Industry Association (CompTIA) S+ training designates knowledgeable professionals in the field of IT security. As an international, vendor-neutral credential, CompTIA S+ certification ensures successful students gain competency in network security, compliance and operational security, common/possible threats and vulnerabilities, application, data and host security, access control and identity management as well as cryptography. Earning CompTIA S+ Certification signifies to employers that candidates will apply their knowledge of security concepts, tools and procedures to prevent security breaches, react accordingly to any security incidents and anticipate further security risks in order to effectively guard against them. Many well-known companies, government contractors and government agencies employ CompTIA S+ certified staff in order to ensure the quality of their work and CompTIA S+ is also one of the options for certifications required by the US Department of Defense for both military personnel and contractors engaged in information security activities.

The CompTIA Security+ course provides students with the basic knowledge and skills necessary to become an IT security professional. This course is designed to fully prepare students to sit for and pass the CompTIA Security+ certification exam. Students will gain the knowledge and skills necessary to identify risk and participate in risk mitigation activities as well as provide... infrastructure, application, operational and information security. They will also acquire the knowledge necessary to apply security controls to maintain confidentiality, integrity and availability, as well as how to identify appropriate technologies and products.

Finally, students will gain an awareness of applicable policies, laws and regulations with regard to IT security. Prospective job roles for successful candidates include security engineer, security architect, security assurance technician, security consultant/specialist, systems administrator, network administrator and security administrator. CompTIA N+ certification plus 2 years of technical networking experience with a focus on security is recommended for success on the exam.

Java is a programming language and computing platform running on hundreds of millions of personal computers worldwide and billions of devices across the globe including mobile devices and televisions. If you own a computer, smartphone or other device, chances are you’ve interacted with some form of Java. Designed to be less complicated than many of its predecessors, Java is easily accessible for most programmers and enables them to develop computer programs faster and easier than ever before.

As the number one development platform and the number one language used for enterprise programming and development, Java training offers students the opportunity to learn the universal Java programming language and technology in order to develop robust programs and applications quickly and efficiently using any platform. In fact, the Java platform can be used with many software applications including all Windows versions, Solaris, Unix open source operating systems and the Apple operating software as well as most Web browsers allowing for great interaction and usability.

Java developers work across all areas of the computer programming field writing software that will run on many different kinds of devices. Often used by application developers, web developers or operating system engineers, all of these professionals use Java Programming on a daily basis. Moreover, Java developers are needed to integrate their code with software already written in other languages such as HTML5 of C++ and are in high demand as this industry moves at a faster and faster clip. So pervasive across the growing programming fields, certification in Java is a great way for new entrants to break into the field and prove their expertise to prospective employers and can help to secure higher salaries as well.

The Java Programming I course is designed to prepare students to sit for the Oracle Certified Associate, Java SE 7 Programmer exam.

PROGRAMMABLE LOGIC CONTROLLERS

The Programmable Logic Controllers program will provide the basic technical skills and knowledge necessary to work with electrical control systems typically found in an industrial environment. The program investigates the operation of various control systems including both discrete and analog control devices. Emphasis is placed on the use and programming of PLCs in a complex industrial control system. This highly innovative distance education program combines state-of-the-art PLC simulation with interactive multimedia curriculum. The program content is delivered on CD-ROM and is supported through the Virtual Campus which provides online testing, technical and tutorial support. Technical and tutorial support is provided via e-mail and telephone. The program is designed to allow students to complete all aspects of the program and receive a PLC Technician certificate while studying at home using a highly interactive learning package.

The learning materials consist of a CD-ROM with 19 modules containing:
- Text
- Audio
- Animations
- Computer-Based Testing
- PLC simulation software

ICD-10 REIMBURSEMENT SPECIALIST
CERTIFICATION PROGRAM (online only) | 240 Hours
ICD-10 Certified Reimbursement Specialist program teaches the upgraded coding system that was updated in October 2015. This system of diagnostic and procedural medical coding is required to be used in all hospitals, doctor's offices and insurance firms. The new system represents a radical change from the current system. This program offers you the complete and comprehensive training required to accurately apply your knowledge of the system when implementing the program in a healthcare setting. Detailed training is taught by our in-person or online instructor which includes: using the coding manuals, understanding coding guidelines, applying the ICD-10 coding steps and more. Quizzes and examinations for diagnoses and procedures will be administered during this training.

Modules will include:
* The structure of the ICD Code *The ICD-10-CM coding manual
* The ICD-10-CM Draft Conventions and Sections of the Official Coding Guidelines *Diagnostic statements from medical records and the difference between main and modifying terms and sub terms *Identifying and applying the required code diagnoses and procedures using the ICD-10-CM and ICD-10-PCS coding manuals
* Applying specific guidelines and proper codes from ICD-10-CM
* Describing the layout and guidelines of the ICD-10-PCS
* Identifying the characters that make up an ICD-10-PCS code and each character’s purpose
* Understanding terminology used in the layout and structure of the ICD-10-PCS codebook
* Defining tables and how they are used when creating an ICD-10-PCS code
* Identifying the sections and uses of the ICD-10-PCS
* Understanding related root operations and applying the general and root operation-specific guidelines for the ICD-10-PCS
Certification through the American Medical Billing Association is provided upon successful completion of the program examination.

PHARMACY TECHNICIAN
THE PHARMACY TECHNICIAN PROFESSION
The need for Pharmacy technicians continues to grow with demand expected to increase substantially through 2016. Technicians work under the supervision of a registered pharmacist in hospitals, home infusion pharmacies, community pharmacies and other healthcare settings. This high demand for pharmacy technicians is the result of a multitude of factors including the constant availability of new drugs, the national shortage of registered pharmacists, the establishment of certified pharmacy technicians, and the aging population. Approximately 400,000 technicians will be employed by the year 2018 to meet our nation’s growing healthcare demands.

THE PHARMACY TECHNICIAN PROGRAM
This comprehensive 50-hour program will prepare students to work as a pharmacy technician in a retail or other pharmacy setting and to take the Pharmacy Technician Certification Board’s PTCB exam. Course content includes: pharmacy medical terminology, the history of pharmacy, the pharmacy practice in multiple environments, pharmacy calculations and measurements, reading and interpreting prescriptions and defining drugs by generic and brand names. Through classroom lecture and hands on labs, students will review dosage calculations, drug classifications, the “top 200 drugs”, I.V. flow rates, sterile compounding, dose conversions, aseptic technique, the handling of sterile products, total parenteral nutrition (TPN), dispensing of prescriptions, inventory control and billing and reimbursement.

This course covers the following key areas and topics:
• Pharmacy calculations
• Medical terminology specific to the pharmacy
• Skills to read and interpret prescriptions
• Review of the top 200 drugs
• Skills to identify drugs by generic and brand names
• Dosage calculations, I.V. flow rates, drug compounding, and dose conversions
• Dispensing of prescriptions, inventory control, and billing and reimbursement

PHLEBOTOMY TECHNICIAN

PHLEBOTOMY TECHNICIAN
THE PHLEBOTOMY TECHNICIAN PROFESSION
The phlebotomist is a vital member of the clinical laboratory team, whose main function is to obtain patient’s blood specimens by venipuncture and micro collection for testing purposes. Phlebotomists are employed throughout the healthcare system including in hospitals, neighborhood health centers, medical group practices, HMO’s, public health facilities, veteran hospitals, insurance carriers, and in other healthcare settings. The demand for phlebotomy technicians has increased substantially with the overall complexity of healthcare services and the risks of infectious disease. Current healthcare industry experts predict a 15% increase in phlebotomy jobs by 2018.

THE PHLEBOTOMY TECHNICIAN PROGRAM
The Phlebotomy Technician Program prepares professionals to collect blood and other specimens from clients for the purpose of laboratory analysis. This course covers the following key areas and topics:

- Process and procedures for collecting blood specimens for laboratory analysis
- All aspects of blood collection and related procedures
- The order of draw
- Universal precautions
- Skills to perform venipunctures completely and safely
- Terminology and related anatomy and physiology

PHLEBOTOMY TECHNICIAN EDUCATION AND CERTIFICATION
- Students should have or be pursuing a high school diploma or GED.
- Several state and national certification exams exist to test the competency of aspiring phlebotomy technicians.

GLOBAL CITIZENSHIP AND INTERNATIONAL STUDIES CERTIFICATE

Our Global Citizenship and International Studies Certificate (GCIS) program provides students with the opportunities for professional development in the field of Global Citizenship and International without the formal pursuit of a degree. The program is ideal for all students whether they be undergraduates looking to add a global dimension to their learning, or graduate students, and mid-career professionals. The Interdisciplinary Program complements a variety of fields of study and majors.

CITIZENSHIP & CIVIC ENGAGEMENT

Have you ever voted? Do you know who your Congressman is? This course serves as your introduction to understanding the connections between learning and active citizenship in a democracy. You will gain insight into the value and limitations of government in delivering what we, the American people, want. You will tackle questions related to the meaning and nature of community, the construction of social problems, and the possible roles different actors (e.g. individuals, non-profit and for-profit organizations, and the state) play in shaping and responding to these problems.

Course Objectives:
• Critical Awareness your own experiences, assets and possibilities for being a civicly engaged citizen.
• Examine civic engagement in America within a larger historical movement.
• Critically consider a range of civic engagement conceptualizations and perceive how differing notions of democracy and civil society result in varying ideas of engagement.
• Identify and understand key ideas central to civic engagement: democracy, citizenship, community, place, and public life.
• Critically examine the impact you as a citizen can have even as you recognize the limitations of individual efforts and the potential satisfaction of collective endeavors.

GLOBAL CULTURES & THE AMERICAN DREAM

There has been a romanticized view of the United States as a landscape of pure possibility. From the 17th century to the present, an ever-shifting “American Dream” has been the repository of Americans’ longing for a new kind of personal and national life. In this class, we will consider how Americans have imagined their dream in terms of everything from political freedom to home ownership. We will look at issues of settlement and population including past and present immigration attitudes/policies, cultural identities, and general demographic patterns. The class will unpack the painful narratives of slavery as experienced by the most marginalized voices, who endured hundreds of years of slavery. There will be focus on economic issues including industrialization, post-industrial change, and the impact of capitalism.

Course Objectives:
• We will explore the topics of political voice and democracy as well as a variety of urban issues such as suburbanization, urban sprawl, urban poverty, gentrification and racial/ethnic segregation.
• Students will recognize the role of social diversity in shaping their own attitudes and values regarding appreciation, tolerance, and equality of others.
• Students will acquire knowledge of the historically marginalized “other” from the immigrant’s plight, to American slavery, to the struggles of the Civil Rights area, to the generation of growing income inequality.

WORLD RELIGIONS & CULTURES IN AMERICA
This course combines perspectives from the fields of geography, anthropology, history, and race studies to cultivate a deeper understanding of how communities produce, maintain, and legitimize sacred spaces. This course is designed for students with no previous background in the study of race/ethnicities and religions of the people that make up the “Melting-Pot” that is the United States. From the story of the Earlier European explorers, to the Native Americans, to the Missionaries, the settlers and later religious interpretations born in The United States, students will gain a vast understanding of the development of religion and culture in America. We will cover a broad range of people and experiences in this class, and all students will find a way to think through their own identities, experiences, and beliefs in the course readings and materials.

Course Objectives:
• Students will be able to analyze how individuals, groups, and/or institutions produce, maintain, and legitimize religious spaces. Students will acquire a deeper understanding of the links among religious practices, built environments, identity formation, and national boundaries.
• Students will develop an understanding of key themes in American religious history and the ways in which scholars have discussed and debated them.
• Students will develop an appreciation for how competing claims to religious authenticity create different narratives of the American religious past that intersect with and challenge each other, making a single metanarrative difficult. They will learn to critically appraise attempts at metanarrative, such as in political election cycles and in PBS’s “God in America”.
• Think critically about your own identity, recognize and appreciate racial and religious experiences that differ from your own, and explain the significance of these differences in today’s world.

PROFESSIONAL WRITING AT WILLIAM PATerson UNIVERSITY | PW @ WP

CREATING CHARACTER IN FICTION
In this two day workshop, we will explore how to make characters that step off the page and capture your reader's imagination. Character driven fiction in any genre is what separates the merely good from the great. Learn how to give your characters “warts” - tics, habits, turns of phrase - that make them unique. Learn to avoid cliché and use language that will create the character you want to build. We will read excerpts from work which exemplifies our goals. Come prepared to write!

Instructor: Judy Hall
Date: Saturdays, October 1 & October 8
Time: 9:00 am - 12:00 pm
Fee: $70.00
Course Number: W043

WHAT’S YOUR STORY?
In a two day, intensive workshop we will delve into your memory and start writing true stories. Memoir writing has to be true but it also has to be compelling and follow the rules of storytelling. We will discuss, therefore, what goes into making a story. Looking at your own flaws, baring the naked truth, and telling an honest story is what makes memoir such a sought after genre. We will read examples from some of the great memoirists of our time. Come prepared to write!

Instructor: Judy Hall
Date: Saturdays, October 15 & October 22
Time: 9:00 am - 12:00 pm
Fee: $70.00
Course Number: W044

YOU SAID WHAT?
In two workshops, we will probe the discourse of dialogue. Should you use vernacular or stick to Standard English? How can you differentiate your characters through dialogue alone? In our time together we will read dialogue from great writers, write our own dialogue from prompts, and read aloud each other’s work. Honest and helpful criticism from your instructor and peers is essential to the writing process. Prepare to write and read - and listen!

Instructor: Judy Hall
Date: Saturdays, November 5 & November 12
Time: 9:00 am - 12:00 pm
Fee: $70.00
Course Number: W045

CONTEMPORARY POETRY WRITING WORKSHOP
Thankfully, poetry isn’t dead. In fact—it’s thriving with life! Come explore some of today’s most exciting texts—from voices of protest all the way to voices of the avant-garde. We will also be reading essays on the craft, watching films, and workshopping poems that you will write in class and outside of class. If poetry is your passion, a rainy day hobby, or somewhere in between, come find out how to take your work to a new level!

Instructor: Scott Wordsman
Date: Tuesdays, October 11 & October 18
Time: 6:00 pm - 9:00 pm
Fee: $70.00
Course Number: W046

ESSENTIALS OF ESSAY WRITING
The essay is no longer confined to its place in just the classroom. With creative nonfiction becoming a rapidly popular genre, writers now are publishing essays with major magazines and publishing houses. In this course, we will read traditional essays as well as explore aspects of poetry and memoir which utilize the essay form. Ultimately, we will learn how to formulate arguments, workshop our writing, and discover what it means to turn an opinion into a well-organized, original piece of literature.

Instructor: Scott Wordsman
Date: Tuesdays, October 25 & November 1 & 8
Time: 6:00 pm – 9:00 pm
Fee: $70.00

THE ART OF PERFORMANCE APPRAISAL

Target Audience: All principles, vice principals and supervisors.

Teacher evaluation historically has been viewed as an event rather than an ongoing professional growth process aimed at improving student achievement. Now is the time for principals/vice principals/supervisors to move away from outdated rituals. Instead, they must focus on the complexity of teacher evaluation reforms that are driven by a belief system that values mutual accountability, responsibility, and empowerment. To achieve this, principals must let go of supervisor dominated monologues and engage in conversations that are sustained by asking thoughtful questions that provoke reflection, offer meaningful information, and initiate action.

During these sessions, participants will begin to recognize the disconnect between beliefs and behaviors in the performance appraisal process. They will understand how a differentiated and developmental model of supervision will result in a school culture that values teachers’ professionalism.

The engaging activities in this module will be focused on the NJ frameworks that include indicators of effective teaching and learning in three domains of practice—planning and preparation, classroom environment, and instruction.

Time in between sessions will give participants opportunities to "rehearse" their skills as supervisors and coaches. As a result of attending these two sessions, participants will:
- learn how to avoid dysfunctional supervisory conversations that are often counterproductive;
- apply differentiated approaches during post-observation conversations that will positively impact student learning outcomes and promote teacher empowerment and accountability;
- design reflective, evidence-based questions to ask during the performance appraisal process and provide feedback to teachers that will strengthen their planning and preparation, classroom environment, and teaching strategies; and
- understand why effective professional learning depends on rethinking teacher evaluation as an ongoing growth-centered process.

Participants are expected to attend both sessions. Session two is dependent on your attending session one.

INTRODUCTION TO GAME-LIKE LEARNING HALF-DAY WORKSHOP

INSTITUTE OF PLAY

Target Audience: All teachers

This 3-hour workshop will provide an introduction to Institute of Play, background on Quest to Learn, and an overview of the games and learning field. Participants will learn about the key components of the TeacherQuest program: The 7 Principles of Game-Like Learning, the Design Process, and Games as Systems. Participants will engage in playful design activities to understand how games are effective tools for engagement, and they will modify existing games to experience the design process.

Participants will leave the workshops with a fundamental understanding of games and play can:

- increase participant engagement;
- allow participants to step into designer-roles, giving rise to greater agency;
- develop 21st century skills such as complex problem solving, empathy, collaboration, and creativity

Participants will understand that:

- Game-like learning provokes immediate feedback, which is fundamental to a collaborative learning culture.

Participants will:

- Play and modify 1 or more games;
- Use feedback tools for collecting playtester feedback;
- Identify and use the phases of the game design process to modify a game (brainstorm, prototype, playtest, iterate).

24 HOUR PRE-SERVICE INTRODUCTION TO TEACHING

The 24-Hour Pre-service Introduction to the Teaching Profession Program provides an introduction and orientation to those exploring the possibility of becoming a teacher or interested in an alternate route to teaching certification program by obtaining an Elementary or Secondary Certificate of Eligibility (CE). The program is designed to provide a framework of ways to explore what works in schools, improve student achievement, develop a vocabulary for the profession, become familiar with the New Jersey Professional Standards for Teachers and the New Jersey Core Curriculum Standards and how to coordinate these standards with lessons.

Participants in the program are required to complete twenty (20) hours of a seminar which includes the following themes: Overview of the Teaching Profession, Classroom Management, Lesson Planning, Best Practices in Learning Strategies and Literacy Instruction, The Many Faces of Diversity, Technology: Productivity and Professional Practice, Home-School Connection, and Finding a Teaching Position. Participants must complete four hours (4) of classroom observation at the grade level and/or in the content area applicable for the desired certification.

Instructor: Darlene Rankin
Dates: October 21–23
Days: Friday, Saturday, and Sunday
Class Schedule: Friday 5:00 pm - 10:00 pm
Saturday & Sunday 8:00 am - 5:00 pm
Fee: $250.00
Course Number: E026

24 HOUR PRE-ENTRY SEMINAR FOR P-3

This 24-hour seminar is approved by NJ Department of Education for meeting the requirements for the 24-hour pre-training requirement for a CE for P-3 (Preschool to Grade 3). Students who successfully complete this 24-hour seminar will receive a Certificate of Completion at the end of the course.

This seminar requires two 3 hour guided observations of an approved setting. Those participants who would like to complete the observations prior to meeting can do so by emailing Nicole Walsh, Nicolewalsh16@gmail.com for details.

This post-baccalaureate seminar serves as an introduction to the teaching profession for participants who are exploring the possibility of becoming a teacher and/or who are seeking a P-3 Certificate of Eligibility (CE). Students who participate and complete the 24 hours and successfully complete all assignments will receive a Certificate of Completion from WPU. Completion of a 24-hour pre-training program is required to receive a P-3 CE from the New Jersey State Department of Education. This course has been designed to incorporate the four topics delineated in N.J.A.C. 6A: 9-8.1(a) 5, i.e., classroom management, lesson planning, introduction to New Jersey’s Core Curriculum Content Standards P-3 (which would include the Preschool Teaching and Learning Standards), and authentic child assessment.

ISO consulting services provided by William Paterson University

1. ISO Certification
   a. 6 Steps:
      i. Initial awareness workshops
      ii. Gap Analysis and process alignment with the Standard
      iii. Implementation
      iv. Internal Audits/Corrective and Preventive Action
      v. Pre-assessment
      vi. Final Certification Audit

2. We also work with companies to customize the certification process based on any specific requirements. Additionally, we can cater to any specific training requirements on any of the above topics.

Note:
1. As per the new guidelines, the validity of the present standard expires by Sept 2018. Request for certifications to the ISO9001:2008 standard will not be accepted after January 2017.

2. This new standard aims at bringing in uniformity in structure, terminology and emphasizes Continual Improvement and enhancement of certification. Although the attempt is highly laudable, it is not without problems. The new standard has some issues which are difficult to understand, interpret or audit. We at William Paterson University have made a thorough analysis of all the problems posed by the standard and have developed a documentation system to overcome all the obstacles. Our system not only finds solutions but it is also simple and very user friendly.

3. William Paterson University also provides step by step auditing procedures customized to company needs to comply with ISO audits.
