Amistad Commission Award

Presented by: The New Jersey Amistad Commission

The Amistad Award is presented to exemplary projects in any category whose topics relate to African American and/or African Diaspora history.

About the Award Sponsor: The Amistad Commission is dedicated to supporting New Jersey's educators and students through a comprehensive range of resources, programs, and professional learning opportunities. Our mission is to ensure that teachers and administrators are equipped with the tools and knowledge to teach about the transatlantic slave trade, the history of slavery in the United States, and the extraordinary contributions of African Americans whose achievements and legacies have profoundly shaped our nation's history, culture, and ongoing pursuit of equality. Through this work, we aim to deepen understanding, promote historical awareness, and inspire appreciation for the enduring impact of African American experiences on American society.

Morristown Chapter NSDAR Award

Presented by: the Morristown Chapter, National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution, Morristown, New Jersey

The Morristown Chapter NSDAR Award is presented to exceptional projects that address Colonial or Revolutionary American history.

About the Award Sponsor: The Morristown, New Jersey, chapter of the NSDAR was organized on November 12, 1895.. In 1923, the chapter purchased the house once owned by Revolutionary War physician and surgeon, Dr. Jabez Campfield. Chapter members named the property the Schuyler-Hamilton House to remember where the courtship and engagement between Elizabeth 'Betsy' Schuyler and Alexander Hamilton took place. The house is located a short distance from the Morristown National Historical Park, the winter encampment of General Washington during the 1777-1778 winter and again during the 'Hard Winter' of 1779-1780. The chapter still owns and actively maintains the property. Tours are available to the public on Sundays from 1-4pm. Our chapter actively supports the objectives of the NSDAR: Historic Preservation, Education, and Patriotism.

National Maritime History Award

Presented by: The National Maritime Historical Society Award is presented to projects that focus on maritime-related topics. To encourage the study of maritime history, the National Maritime Historical Society offers prizes for maritime-related projects in 24 states, including New Jersey.

About the Award Sponsor: The National Maritime Historical Society is an international organization headquartered in Peekskill, New York. Since 1965, its mission has been to educate Americans about our nation's extraordinary maritime accomplishments and their continuing relevance for our national prosperity and cultural vitality. Since its beginnings in 1963, the National Maritime Historical Society has been celebrating the sea – raising awareness of our maritime heritage and the role seafaring has played in shaping civilization. To encourage the study of our heritage, NMHS proudly participates in National History Day, and has a long history of involvement in other maritime education initiatives. And to broaden knowledge, encourage partnerships, and keep the study of history current and relevant, the Society supports maritime heritage conferences and events across the country.
