Course for Students on Human Subject Research Now Available

William Paterson Human Subjects Research Education Site

This new, optional course is an effective resource for introducing undergraduate, master’s or doctoral students to the ethical engagement of human subjects in research.

The WPU Institutional Review Board (IRB) is not requiring students to complete this course. It has been provided as an appropriate alternative to the course offered for investigators and educators.

Instructions for Students Use:
1. Go to www.citiprogram.org. Click “New Users Register Here”
2. Register using WP User Name and Email Address
   (SmithJ and SmithJ@student.wpunj.edu)
3. Select Group 2: Students in Research
4. Complete all three modules.
5. Print two copies of the Completion Report: Give one to professor and keep one for yourself

Instructions for Faculty Use:
1. Add “CITI Course for Students In Research: www.citiprogram.org” to your Blackboard course site.
2. Include completion of course as a homework or extra credit assignment and/or use as the basis for a class discussion

Student IRB Forms, Student Research FAQ and other resources:
www.wpunj.edu/osp/irb

Course Outline Highlights
🔹 Ethical Foundation
🔹 What is Human Subject Research?
🔹 What is an IRB?
🔹 Students As Researchers
🔹 Informed Consent
🔹 What should students expect as a research subject?
🔹 What is the role of the Faculty Advisor?
🔹 William Paterson Policy and Procedures

Students who have completed the course for William Paterson University Researchers and Educators DO NOT need to complete this new course!

Questions? Concerns? Schedule presentation for a class? Contact the IRB at www.wpunj.edu/osp/irb
973-720-2652
WilliamsM@wpunj.edu