2015 UNIVERSITY AUTHORS
RESEARCH & SCHOLARSHIP DAY
DAVID & LORRAINE CHENG LIBRARY
April 1, 2015

Dear William Paterson University Community,

The Cheng Library is pleased to participate in Research and Scholarship Day to honor those whose creative and scholarly efforts are showcased in posters, presentations, and this bibliography.

The field of scholarly publication is changing and the Open Access (OA) movement is gaining strength nationally and internationally. On our campus, the Senate’s Research and Scholarship Council has been charged with exploring the benefits of publishing in freely available (“open”) journals and proposing recommendations for a University strategy regarding OA policies.

As librarians, we are committed to the ideal of freely available and easily accessible information for all. As Library faculty, we are dedicated to being active participants in the research process, as well as providing the services and resources required for significant scholarship. Take advantage of all the Library has to offer to enhance your research and that of your students.

I am once again proud to be a part of the teaching, learning, and scholarship that takes place here. Thank you for participating in this year’s Library Author Reception.

Sincerely,

Anne Ciliberti, Ph. D.
Interim Dean of the Cheng Library
