EXPLORATIONS

RESEARCH, SCHOLARSHIP, & CREATIVE EXPRESSION

2018 UNIVERSITY AUTHORS | DAVID & LORRAINE CHENG LIBRARY

Cover art and design by WPU student John McElrone with guidance from Professor Matthew Finn.

“When thinking how Explorations could be interpreted in an academic environment, I found the most relatable concept was the presence of an idea. Whether arriving through study, discovery, or an exciting “eureka!” moment, ideas can lead to innovation and success for any student willing enough to pursue them. This inspired the layout to give the viewer an “ah-ha!” moment, which was realized by deconstructing the form of a lightbulb... inviting those same students to discover the connection between the lightbulb, and the expression of creative study and academic achievement they are destined for.” - John McElrone

Dear William Paterson University Community,

We have arrived again at that point in time when we, on a yearly basis, celebrate the scholarship and creative achievements of our University's brain trust, the faculty who as masters mentor the apprentices of today and masters of tomorrow, our students. This time-honored process within the academy is a source of its strength and guarantor of its sustainability. Our faculty have done us proud again with the works they have produced and are captured in this bibliography; they have again attested to the quality of the intellectual pursuits going on here at William Paterson University. They have demonstrated that they are at the heart of the content creation and engagements of ideas that inform the academic enterprise; they have demonstrated that they are worthy instructors to our curious learners. Such is the tradition that has over the ages served universities well, and the productivity gleaned in these pages continue that worthy tradition, a recognition of the enduring truth that those who facilitate the acquisition and growth of knowledge do so best when they are also active participants in the creation and dissemination of that knowledge.

The efforts on the pages you will be perusing also represent that transcendent human urge and unique capability to identify, conceptualize, and attempt solutions in the interest of enhancing the human experience. For their efforts I congratulate all our contributors, and for their results I thank them with the joy of a librarian and the enthusiasm of an information mediator and disseminator. I would also like to thank all those who worked tirelessly behind the scenes to put this bibliography together, and the organizers of this yearly event to honor our authors. Thank you to the University for supporting the efforts of our authors, and for celebrating their achievements. These are the moments of which every university community should be proud and we are rightfully proud and excited about our William Paterson family at this time, and proud of those who bring us such pride and joy through their intellectual exploits.

Sincerely,

Edward Owusu-Ansah, Ph.D.
