“When I started my research on Explorations, I started to think about places that had yet to be explored. The ocean makes up more than 70 percent of the earth. Being that the ocean is so vast, I expected that we had already explored about 50 percent of it. I was shocked to find out that more than 80 percent remains unexplored. With so much uncertainty that could be swimming around in the depths of the ocean, you never know when you will be stumbling upon a big fish.” – Robert Brady

Dear William Paterson University Community,

Every year around this time, we take stock of the previous year's accomplishments of our faculty and staff in the area of research, scholarship, and creative expressions. Like the year before it, 2018 was a productive year, and the over 350 entries in the current bibliography speak to the intellectual vibrancy of our academic community. The books, book chapters, journal articles, poems, and other creative expressions found in this volume represent works of faculty from virtually every department in the University, and the works of staff and administrators as well. It is an output we can be collectively proud of, and I congratulate and applaud the contributors for the profile they provide William Paterson University as a leading and active academic environment, and worthwhile trainer of the future experts and leaders who elect to study at this institution. I have always believed that those who facilitate the acquisition and growth of knowledge do so best when they are also active participants in the creation and dissemination of that knowledge. This bibliography makes a very strong case for William Paterson University.

Thank you to the authors and creators for the insights they bring to their disciplines and the intellectual vibrancy ignited in their classrooms and departments through their efforts. Such moments bring great joy to the heart of every information mediator and disseminator. Cheng Library is thrilled to be a part of showcasing the accomplishments of our authors and artists. As we do so, we must also acknowledge, commend, and thank all those who worked tirelessly behind the scenes to put this bibliography together, and the organizers of this yearly event. Congratulations and thanks are due to the Office of Sponsored Programs, which works on a daily basis to support research, scholarship, and creative efforts at William Paterson University. Finally, thank you to the leadership of the University for the vision and courage to support the activities highlighted by Explorations 2019 and its predecessors.

Sincerely,

Edward Owusu-Ansah, Ph.D.
