Streaming Video for Teacher & Counselor Education
Alphabetical List, August 2018

All titles are available through NJVid, http://wpunj.njvid.net
Please note that this isn’t a complete list. Search the Library's online catalog, https://catalog.wpunj.edu/vufind/ and/or NJVid for additional titles.

Streaming video
NOTES: A four part series that focuses on how to implement a schoolwide anti-bullying program. Presented by Dr. Kenneth Shore each part is aimed at a different audience.

Call Number: View streaming video for administrators and pupils (41 min.)
View streaming video for teachers (35 min.)
View streaming video for parents (32 min.)
View streaming video for paraprofessionals (31 min.)

Streaming video (30 min.)
NOTES: A guide to help teachers recognize their students’ styles of acquiring and working with information: visual, auditory and kinesthetic. Identifies how educators can plan and implement strategies to best meet these learning styles.

Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (85 min.)
NOTES: Ken Burns turns his lens to the Greenwood School in Vermont, a boarding school for boys, ages 11 to 17 with learning disabilities. A rite of passage is for these students to memorize the Gettysburg Address and recite it publicly, a challenge for many students but especially for these boys who have only known failure for most of their school experiences.

Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (119 min.)
NOTES: Are hitting, biting and bullying normal behaviors in young children? This program uses direct observations, exercises, quizzes and interviews with experts in childhood aggression to explain childhood aggression.

Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (108 min.)
NOTES: Are hitting, biting and bullying normal behaviors in young children? This program uses direct observations, exercises, quizzes and interviews with experts in childhood aggression to explain childhood aggression.

Call Number: View streaming video, also available as DVD 2016
American promise: Success is our only option. (2013). Sausalito, CA: Ro*Co Films Educational.
Streaming video (135 min., 85 min., 45 min. 30 min.)
NOTES: Two middle class black families send their sons to an elite private school because they value education. Spanning 12 years this video examines the struggles the families encounter with stereotypes and academics.

Call Number: View streaming video (135 min.)
View streaming video (85 min.)
View streaming video (45 min.) Classroom clips
View streaming video (30 min.) Youth video module

1 videodisc (80 min.)
NOTES: Four teachers in different areas of the country describe the frustrations of teaching and ask how we can keep teachers in the profession and make their jobs more rewarding.

Call Number: DVD 1964 or View streaming video

Streaming video, 8 lessons (60 min. each) Publisher’s website.
NOTES: Eight-part workshop for teaching dance, music, theatre and visual arts at the high school level. Includes teachers demonstrating their practice at U.S. high schools. An interactive website supplements the program.

Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (55 min.)
NOTES: This program recalls how massive immigration, child labor laws and the explosive growth of cities fueled school attendance and transformed public education. Also explored are the impact of John Dewey, Cold War politics and IQ tests.

Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video
NOTES: This six-part series focuses on the stages of child development.

Call Number: View streaming video Birth (54 min.)
View streaming video Bathing (54 min.)
View streaming video Feeding (53 min.)
View streaming video Playing (54 min.)
View streaming video Perception (52 min.)
View streaming video Talking (55 min.)

Streaming video (53 min.)
NOTES: Built around several case studies, this program distinguishes between high- and low-functioning autism, illustrates differences between autistic and non-autistic brains, considers possible causes, associated conditions and treatments.

Call Number: View streaming video
Streaming video (17 min.)
NOTES: This program is designed by teachers and parents with autistic children and autistic children in their facilities and features a short interview with Dr. Bernard Rimland a noted expert on autism.
Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (101 min.)
NOTES: This documentary follows Vonda Viland, the principal of Black Rock Continuation High School, an alternative school for students who have lost hope of earning a high school diploma. Viewers get a picture of how public education can combat the effects of poverty on children.
Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (18 min.)
NOTES: This video addresses the balancing of using individualized support and interpersonal engagement to deliver lessons that teach standards. Assessment of student progress based on individual needs is also discussed.
Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (23 min.)
NOTES: In this program, Simon Baron-Cohen, professor of developmental psychopathology at Cambridge University discusses his case study of people with Asperger's syndrome and other forms of autism. The video includes clips of children and adults with autism.
Call Number: View streaming video, also available as DVD 2394

Streaming video (55 min.)
NOTES: This program explores the impact of A Nation at Risk with the introduction of vouchers, charter schools and privatization. It questions if these strategies challenge the founding father's notion of a common school, or are they the only choice in a complex society?
Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (53 min.)
NOTES: Three young Latino boys immigrate to the U.S. and face many challenges getting an education and staying out of trouble.
Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (37 min.)
NOTES: Footage from preschool classrooms in Chicago illustrate how to create enjoyable and developmentally appropriate math experiences for young children. With commentary from experts from Erikson Institute’s Early Mathematics Education Project.
Call Number: View streaming media
NOTES: Bullying is a major factor that leads to suicide in teenagers. This video gives insights into different types of bullying, the roles of bully and victim, as well as how bystanders can add to the bullying or reduce the negative effects of bullying, and save lives.
Call Number: View streaming video

NOTES: Follow the frenetic and awkwardly painful journey of three novice teachers as they navigate one memorable school year. Ultimately as touching as it is comedic, Chalk offers a hilarious and hopeful look at public education in America.
Call Number: View streaming video, also available as DVD 2493

NOTES: Examines Piaget’s theory of the cognitive stages of development from birth to twelve years old and compares it with Jerome Bruner’s theories. Research confirms Piaget’s stages, but not ages. Also explores other developments such as metacognition and theory of mind.
Call Number: View streaming video

NOTES: This program profiles the work of Thomas Jefferson, and later Noah Webster and Horace Mann to create a system of tax-supported schools that would mix people of different backgrounds and reinforce the democracy.
Call Number: View streaming video.

NOTES: Part of a series: “Aspects of Child Development: Ages 4 to 11.” This program focuses on how children transform during this period, becoming more independent and clashing with parents. The experts stress the importance of maintaining limits.
Call Number: View streaming video

NOTES: An excerpt from the MacNeil/Lehrer News Hour that examines the claims of E.D. Hirsch, Jr. that schools are failing to teach basic cultural information that all literate Americans should know.
Call Number: View streaming video

NOTES: While the internet is a popular communication tool for teens, it has also become a tool for bullying others. This program suggests strategies to prevent cyberbullying, to recognize when it occurs, and how to respond.
Call Number: View streaming video
1 videodisc (28 min.)
NOTES: Cyber bullying is an increasing problem that results in many of its victims committing suicide or violent crimes. Jacob Zellman tells his story of being cyber bullied, and what prevented him from taking his own life. This video includes information from many experts, and includes a segment about the New Jersey anti-bullying law.

Call Number: DVD 2190

Streaming video (14 min.)
NOTES: Correlating to NETS-S this program helps students understand appropriate and ethical behavior in an online setting. Focusing not only on ethical use of intellectual property, social behaviors including cyber-bullying are also discussed.

Call Number: View streaming video

Dislecksia. (2014). Austin, TX: Tugg Educational.
Streaming video (84 min.)
NOTES: Harvey Hubbell V incorporates home movies, vintage class footage and interviews with celebrities who have dyslexia to present a humorous look at the struggles, strategies and successes of many people with dyslexia.

Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (28 min.)
NOTES: With commentary from Howard Gardner regarding his theory of multiple intelligences this video explores how teachers implement this theory to meet the needs of their students.

Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (38 min.)
NOTES: English language learning expert Jo Gusman, presents her Foundation-Framework-Tools model for developing language acquisition programs that better understand English language learners and their families and create an inclusive classroom environment.

Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (29 min.)
NOTES: This program from The Doctor is In explores how dyslexic students learn, and how new teaching techniques are helping them succeed in school. These teaching approaches are explored at the Washington Lab School—a pioneer in innovative teaching methods.

Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (102 min.)
NOTES: Four experts debate whether or not the Common Core Standards should be used in the American schools.

Call Number: View streaming video
NOTES: Martha Eddy from the Center for Kinesthetic Education demonstrates Eye opener exercises that help children to focus their attention on learning.
Call Number: View streaming video

NOTES: Dr. Karen Hansen of Swinburne University defines emotional intelligence (EI) and suggest ways that EI can be promoted in secondary school classrooms.
Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (28 min.)
NOTES: Feared and misunderstood for centuries, epilepsy is now completely manageable for many. This program reviews newly developed treatments, and presents case studies about the prejudice that has traditionally surrounded epilepsy.
Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (71 min.)
NOTES: Not all Hitler’s victims were Jewish. This video explores the other victims who were targeted for extermination because of their religion, ethnicity, physical disabilities, sexual orientation or political views.
Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (57 min.)
Call Number: View streaming video.

Streaming video (53 min.)
NOTES: This video looks at the lives and challenges of three young Latina women as they struggle to stay in school.
Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (58 min.)
NOTES: Introduces the terms and techniques to use Internet technology. Instructors share lesson plans that use the Internet for collaborative communication, for virtual field trips, and online publishing. Addresses Acceptable Use Policies, Netiquette and content filtering.
Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (31 min.)
NOTES: This video introduces the suite of internet-based applications including Google Search, Blogger, Google Maps, Google Video, Google Docs, Gmail, etc.
Call Number: View streaming video
Streaming video (53 min.)
NOTES: Part of a series: “Aspects of Child Development: Ages 4 to 11.” A panel of experts in various fields suggests that schools organize their instructional day to respond better to children’s cognitive, emotional and physical development.

Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (92 min., 51 min.)
NOTES: International High School at Lafayette is dedicated to serving newly arrived immigrants. This video focuses on five teenagers learning a new language and finding their place in a new country.

Call Number: [View streaming video](92 min.)
[View streaming video](51 min.)

Including Samuel. (2014). Durham, NH: Institute on Disability/UCED.
1 videodisc (58 min.)
NOTES: This film explores the educational and social inclusion of youth with disabilities with a close look at how Samuel’s family strive to include the seven year old in all school and community activities despite his cerebral palsy.

Call Number: DVD 3281, or View streaming video

Integrating ESL students into the classroom. (2007). Films Media Group.
Streaming media (27 min.)
NOTES: This program reviews basic ESL standards and strategies and suggests how to incorporate them into teaching content to English Language Learners (ELL). Also includes strategies for helping ELLs master English in social settings, and using technology with ELLs.

Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (30 min.)
NOTES: Educators and library media specialists in middle school, high school and college offer practical advice about integrating media into the classroom. Includes case studies of educators who put theory into practice. A viewing guide is available online.

Call Number: View streaming video: Practice and case studies

Videodisc and Streaming video (28 min.)
NOTES: A review of the history of educational media, and the research supporting its use as an effective classroom tool. Features media theoreticians Lou Fournier Marzeles and Lynell Burmark. A viewing guide is available online.

Call Number: View streaming video: Theory and research & DVD1616

Streaming video (29 min.)
NOTES: College professors and librarians discuss the strategies for identifying whether or not the information found on a website is credible. It also examines the consequences of using unreliable information.

Call Number: View streaming video
Invitation to dance. (2014). Alive Mind.
1 videodisc (85 min.)
NOTES: At age 23, Simi Linton was injured while hitchhiking to Washington to protest the war in Vietnam. Suddenly a young disabled college student, she confronted discrimination she never imagined. Dance has become a central theme in her social life, activism, and work.
Call Number: View streaming video, also available as DVD 3204

1 videocassette (51 min.) + 1 teacher’s guide
NOTES: Director John Barton guides the Royal Shakespeare Company in a discussion and dramatization of Shakespeare’s use of irony and ambiguity. Barton analyzes some of Shakespeare’s texts, and demonstrates how understanding the irony changes the perception of the character speaking.
Call Number: View streaming video, also available as VC 5179

Streaming video (108 min.)
NOTES: 30 years after she was institutionalized at Kings Park State Hospital in New York, filmmaker Lucy Winer returns to the now closed facility. She meet with other former patients, their families and the hospital staff to reveal the painful legacy of the state hospital system.
Call Number: View streaming video

1 videocassette or streaming video (51 min.)
NOTES: Director John Barton guides the Royal Shakespeare Company in a discussion and dramatization of Shakespeare's use of language to define character, and his characters' use of language to achieve their intentions. Explores the use of Elizabethan English.
Call Number: View streaming video & VC 5177

NOTES: Explores the development of language in babies and children from the first cry of an infant through babbling through speaking fluently. Discusses the nature/nurture debate and the Interactionist view. The Whorf-Sapir hypothesis is described and illustrated with examples. Discusses the question of language among non-humans.
Call Number: View streaming video & DVD 1139

Streaming video (53 min.)
NOTES: A group of experts in many fields look at the process of learning and especially at how children learn to communicate through reading and writing. Part of a series: “Aspects of Child Development: Ages 4 to 11.”
Call Number: View streaming video

Lessons from the real world. (2011). Rohnert Park, CA: KRCB.
Streaming video (58 min.)
NOTES: An examination of community based learning in K-12 education that looks at settings in which students work outside the classroom to solve real problems. It emphasizes that many academic areas are taught more effectively in real world situations.
Call Number: View streaming video
Streaming video (48 min.)
NOTES: This video series follows a group of Australian children participating in a large-scale, longitudinal study that looks at their development. This episode looks specifically at the social issues of being seven.

Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (57 min.)
NOTES: This video series follows a group of Australian children participating in a large-scale, longitudinal study that looks at their development. This episode looks at temperament and how children cope with the challenges of school, family and other life events.

Call Number: View streaming video

Living along the autism spectrum what does it mean to have autism or Asperger syndrome? (2009). Shawnee Mission, KS: Autism Asperger.
1 videodisc (53 min.)
NOTES: Through an interview with Robert Nassef and Stephen Shore, examines autism and Asperger's syndrome, looking at the nature of autism and the effects of having autistic child in the family, from the perspectives of both a father and an individual on the spectrum.

Call Number: View streaming video, also available as DVD 2398

Streaming video (Heart-22 min., Body-18 min., Mind-38 min.)
NOTES: Divided into three segments with four short related documentaries each, this documentary explores the issues of food, nutrition, education, health and citizen action.

Call Number: Heart Streaming video; Body Streaming video; Mind Streaming video

Streaming video (52 min.)
NOTES: A close and critical look at the animated films produced by the Disney Company, and at the world these films create (in terms of race, gender and class) and reaches disturbing conclusions about the values propagated under the guise of innocence and fun.

Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (118 min.)
NOTES: In their final year at Muncie's Southside High School, a group of seniors hurtles toward maturity with a combination of joy, despair, and an aggravated sense of urgency. They are also learning a great deal about life, both in and out of school, and not what school officials think they are teaching.

Call Number: View Streaming video

No child left behind: The case of City Springs. Films Media Group.
Streaming video (87 min.)
NOTES: A case study of City Springs Elementary, a Baltimore school nearly closed by the State of Maryland until it implemented a teaching method known as Direct Instruction. Filmed over an entire year, the film documents the progress made by City Springs students, and their teachers. The video culminates in statewide exam results that heavily favor City Springs' new strategy.

Call Number: View Streaming video
Streaming video (9 min.)
NOTES: Featured is the Cornell Notetaking Method, which uses a divided notebook format to help students effectively record and learn information presented in class. Suggests frequency of reviewing notes for maximum learning.
Call Number: View streaming video.

Streaming video (31 min.)
NOTES: Intended for teens this video discusses how prejudice is learned and can be unlearned. Focusing on how prejudice begins with fear of outsiders and results in discrimination.
Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (103 min.)
NOTES: An alternative high school in Washington state tries to help students to overcome the challenges of childhood trauma caused by poverty, abuse and neglect.
Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (22 min.)
NOTES: This video identifies what plagiarism is, what are the possible consequences, and how to avoid it. Stressing the importance of acknowledging the original sources of information, it also reviews the various citation formats.
Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (53 min.)
NOTES: Director John Barton leads the Royal Shakespeare Company in a discussion of Shakespeare's use of poetry and hidden poetry. The actors demonstrate how polysyllables trip easily off the tongue, while monosyllabic lines and words are packed with thoughts and feelings.
Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (58 min.)
NOTES: Five part series that examines how the wealthiest country in the world is falling behind by neglecting the wellbeing of our youngest citizens.
Call Number: View streaming video (58 min.) The raising of America
  View streaming video (32 min.) Once upon a time: When childcare…
  View streaming video (32 min.) Are we crazy about our kids?
  View streaming video (42 min.) Wounded places: Confronting…
  View streaming video (37 min.) DNA is not destiny: How the outside…

1 videodisc or streaming video (20 min)
NOTES: With simple methods for tackling an immense volume of content, this program helps students manage workplace reading tasks quickly and efficiently without overlooking important information.
Call Number: DVD 1628 or View streaming video
NOTES: Presents three strategies for improving students’ reading rate and comprehension. One strategy is the SQ3R Strategy (Survey, Question, Read, Recite and Review).
   Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (23 min.)
NOTES: Developed for a teenage audience this video explores strategies to identify propaganda, bias and advertising on the internet. Strategies include looking at language used, types of sponsorships, and the web address.
   Call Number: View streaming video

1 videodisc (83 min.)
NOTES: The theory of evolution and a re-write of US history are caught in the crosshairs when creationist Don McLeroy seeks re-election as chairman of the Texas State Board of Education, the most influential board of education in the US.
   Call Number: DVD 2208 or View streaming video

See what I’m saying. (1992). Fanlight Productions.
Streaming video (31 min.)
NOTES: This documentary follows Patricia, a four-year-old deaf child, and her struggle to communicate. Patricia’s progress will reassure parents and teachers that deaf children can become successful communicators and active learners whether or not they learn to speak.
   Call Number: View Streaming video

Streaming video (25 min.)
NOTES: Presents basic information about sensory systems along with solutions for how to deal with sensory challenges both at home and school.
   Call Number: View Streaming video, also available as DVD 2419

A small act. (2010). HBO Documentary Films.
Streaming video (54 min. or 88 min.)
NOTES: When a Swedish woman, Hilde Back, sponsored a young, rural Kenyan student, she thought nothing of it. Years later, Chris Mburu is a Harvard graduate and a Human Rights Lawyer for the United Nations, who starts a scholarship program of his own to give a new generation of Kenyan students the hope of affording an education.
   Call Number: View Streaming video (54 min.), View Streaming video (88 min.)

Streaming video (61 min.)
NOTES: Two families with a history of deafness go through the process of deciding whether their children should have cochlear implant surgery. The surgery would allow the children to hear, but would weaken their connection to deaf culture.
   Call number: Streaming video
 Streaming video (29 min.)
NOTES: In this follow up film, Heather and her brothers have received cochlear implants. Her speech is understandable and she attends a mainstream school. Her father, who initially opposed the implant, now says that he sees how useful implants can be for deaf children.
 Call number: Streaming video

 Streaming video (12 min.)
NOTES: A two part video that discusses how to support children who are being abused. The first part talks about what teachers should do to handle disclosure from a child, and the second part is an animated video about a child who has been abused. Produced in Australia.
 Call Number: View streaming video

 Streaming video (10 min.)
NOTES: Outlines a concise three-step process for understanding and retaining information, including exposure, review and practice. Stresses the importance of weekly attendance, distilling weekly lecture notes into a study guide, and group study.
 Call Number: View streaming video

 Streaming video (10 min.)
NOTES: This program defines stress and promotes three strategies for dealing with it: positive attitude, healthy lifestyle and relaxation techniques. Discussing the harmful aspects of unmanaged stress.
 Call Number: View streaming video

 Streaming video (55 min.)
 Call Number: View streaming video

 Streaming video (74 min.)
NOTES: A look at modern theories of memory and the current research in everyday memory, reasons for forgetting and ways to improve memory. Includes eight exercises for viewers.
 Call Number: View streaming video

 Streaming video (72 min.)
NOTES: Will Lautzenheiser’s life was dramatically changed when a deadly infection resulted in the loss of all his limbs. This documentary describes how he accepts his new life, then puts his life and health on the line, to become the third patient to undergo a double-arm transplantation.
 Call Number: View streaming video, also available as DVD 3294
Streaming video (30 min.)
NOTES: Success Strategies offers a practical framework of commonsense solutions for supporting secondary students with special needs through such strategies as reduced course load, a designated place to de-stress, and the use of laptops and other technologies.

Call Number: View streaming video, also available as DVD 2396

Streaming video (25 min.)
NOTES: This video provides strategies to help classroom teachers accommodate ESL learners. It recommends modeling language skills and using non-verbal cues. It includes a demonstration of the “Think-Pair-Share” strategy to build language skills and content understanding.

Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (18 min.)
NOTES: Presents three strategies to help students make better use of their time, including development of a term calendar, weekly schedule, and a daily “To-Do” list.

Call Number: View streaming video.

Streaming video (47 min.)
NOTES: This video looks at the lives of two pregnant women who have been addicted to heroin, but are now in methadone programs. Following these women through delivery this program examines the effects of drug addiction on a newborn, and studies the management of drug withdrawal on an infant.

Call Number: View streaming video

Streaming video (40 min.)
NOTES: Bill Moyers compares the everyday experiences of two New York City middle school students and contrasts political rhetoric with the reality of American schooling. Features interviews with advocates for educational reform including John Chubb and Jonathan Kozol.

Call Number: View streaming video & DVD 1086

Streaming video (48 min.)
NOTES: Operation Breaking Stereotypes is a high school exchange program between inner-city students from New York City and students from rural Maine. This video follows a group of young people who are paired with a peer from a different ethnic and cultural background in an unfamiliar setting, and learn about their differences and their similarities.

Call Number: View streaming video

1 videodisc (76 min.)
NOTES: When Kelsey’s high school implements Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS), a youth-directed planning process called RENEW, and other reforms Kelsey gets a chance to change from a problem student to a motivated young woman. This video follows her through her senior year.

Call Number: DVD 3280, or View streaming video
NOTES: Seven students are videotaped while discussing why they dropped out of high school. This discussion is then shown to teachers, counselors and administrators for their reaction. Their videotaped reaction is then shown to the students, beginning a dialogue of the factors that cause students to drop out and how to prevent it.
   Call Number: View streaming video

8/18 yrr