BD-SPONSORED SEMINAR SERIES PRESENTS...

FINDING HIDDEN SIGNALS IN SPECTRAL DATA AND OTHER JOURNEYS

by Sharon L. Neal, Ph.D.
Associate Professor
University of Delaware

Dr. Neal is an analytical chemist whose research focuses on the development of multichannel (broadband) optical spectroscopy and multivariate data analysis methods. In addition to her research, Dr. Neal teaches courses, is an active member of several professional societies, and has spent time as a rotating program officer at the NSF. Dr. Neal will discuss her work as well as her scientific journey.
